FLAMES SPREAD VERY RAPIDLY

Railroad Officials Consider Plans For Rebuilding Structure

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 28.—Laborers today begun the monumental task of clearing away debris over a radius of a city block in the wake of the most disastrous fire in this city's history which razed the Tewlfth street shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad with loss estimated at more than one million dollars.

The blaze, breaking out in a wing of the machine shop building spread rapidly, its progress aided by grease- soaked waste, oil and interior work.

Roof Caves In

So quick was the march of the flames that the roof of the air brake shop caved in five minutes after the blaze was discovered. Explosion of acetlylene tanks in the air brake shop helped spread of the flames, and the entire main shop fell victim to the blaze within a quarter of an hour. Heavy machinery in the building crashed through the weakened and burning floors and with collapse of the roof, side walls buckled, breaking guard rails on a nearby bridge.

The shops were closed for the holidays and none of the 1100 workmen employed there were on duty.

Twelve firemen in one of the smaller shop buildings narrowly escaped injury when the roof crashed down.

Two detours were removed last week and one added, according to the Detour Bulletin issued by the State Highway Department. Detour No. 68 between New Florence and Seward was removed, as was the one between Bedford and Everett, No. 149. The new detour added is between Eden and Mechanicsburg on Route 23, 1.5 miles long over improved road.

The State Highway Department is oiling the roads in Somerset county this week. Usually one associates oiling operations with the summer time, but the Highway Department has been oiling roads in the state right along.

Democrats Will Start Paring Of Big Tax Program

Program Recommended By Secretary Mellon Will Be Shaped To Democrats Will

PEOPLE DEMANDED EXTRA EXPENDITURES

Floor Leader Says That It Is Regretted That Taxes Must Be Boosted

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—The tax program recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is to be shaped to the will of the Democrats, who will also pare the appropriations estimates of the bureau of the budget, Rep. Rainey of Illinois, Democrat floor leader, made it plain today.

Though ready to cooperate with President Hoover and the Republicans in expediting relief measures, Rainey said his party intends to adopt whatever amendments and changes are necessary.

Is Regretted

"It is to be regretted," Rainey said, "That the taxpayers of the country are to be subjected now, to new and staggering burdens of taxation. Before these bills are passed, there will be ameliorating modifications which Democratic committees will insert."

At the same time the Republican leader, Rep. Snell of New York, pointed out that people demanded extra expenditures by the federal government, requiring increased taxes. He said:

"There is not one of these extra expenditures but what the people themselves have absolutely demanded and forced on the president and congress."

Lin Sen Named By Nationalist Party In China

(International News Service)

NANKING, Dec. 28.—Lin Sen, veteran Chinese statesman, today was elected chairman of the Chinese National government, succeeding former President Chiang Kai-Shek.

Lin Sen was chief of the legislative Yuan in Chiang Kai-Shek's late government. Although educated in China, Lin Sen lived for many years in California.

Gandhi Arrives Back In India

Indian Nationalist Leader Very Much Concerned By New Disturbances

RIOTING OCCURS ON BOMBAY DOCK

(International News Service)

BOMBAY, Dec. 28.—Mahatma Gandhi arrived home today to confront a confused situation which presented new worries to the aged nationalist leader of independence for India, already burdened with care.

It was Gandhi's day of silence and he did not speak, but it was impossible for him to hide his concern over new disturbances which have broken out since he left the London Indian roundtable conference which he himself termed a failure.

As the S. S. Pilsna was docking with Gandhi aboard, rioting broke out on the docks between anti-Gandhists and a large crowd of followers gathered to greet him. Twenty-five were injured.

And, in addition to these troubles, Gandhi found the city of Bombay itself afflicted with a general strike, a protest against the recent arrest of Jawaharial Nehru former president of the All-Indian congress and one of Gandhi's chief lieutenants.

BOMBAY, Dec. 28.—Breaking his vows of silence, Manhatma M. K. Gandhi today pledged himself to "strain every nerve" to prevent new strife and bloodshed in India.

Returning to Bombay from the round table conference in London aboard the Liner Pilsna, the Mahatma surprised journalists by responding volumbly and in good humor to their volley of questions, although for years he has set aside Monday

TIENTCHWANGTI, Manchuria, Dec. 28.—Three thousand Japanese troops, finally under way on their long-awaited drive on Chinchow, paused here today to muster their full strength before proceeding on their next stage, to Panshan. There they will confront 4,000 Chinese regulars.

The army was taken over here by General Jiro Tamon, already distinguished in the present conflict by brilliant victories in the north at Inchang and Tsitsihar. The Japanese at first planned to push on directly to Panshan, which is 25 miles from here, but under the direction of the wily General Tamon halted to take all precautions before attempting to move into the Chinese town.

Teachers Meet In Pittsburgh

Pennsylvania Educational Association Sessions Start Tonight

EXPECT 4000 WILL ATTEND SESSIONS

PITTSBURGH, Pa. Dec. 28—More than 4,000 school teachers from all parts of the state were arriving here today for the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Education Association.

First session of the conclave will be held this evening with reports of the legislative and welfare committees. The latter will deal almost exclusively with operation of the Lloyd Misslin Memorial Home at Columbia, Pa.

Report of the legislative committee is expected to be a review of the laws passed by the recent session of the legislature. Resolutions will also be submitted at the opening session.

Among the outstanding educators here for the conference is Miss Florence Hale, of Maine, president of the national educational association

Meeting of the Pennsylvania School Press Association will be held tomorrow. An exhibition of the school publications is planned and awards will be made for the best school paper in the state.

State Solons Return Today To Harrisburg

Governor Pinchot Believed Favors Keeping Special Session Going

SEEK SUPPORT FOR GAS TAX

To Date $10,716,553 Has Been Appropriated For Economic Relief

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—Members of the Pennsylvania legislature returned here today with conservative members advising against plans for an early sine die adjournment.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot is believed to favor prolonging the session until more comprehensive relief than that provided under the Talbot law is made available through legislative action.

Of the $10,716,553 appropriated by the special session thus far, $10,000,000 is contianed in the Talbot bill, opposed by administration forces and allowed to go on the statute books unsigned by the governor.

Other Appropriations.

Other appropriations expected to be made available through passage of bills this week are $2,000,000 to state aided hospitals, $2,300,000 for a new finance building, $1,000,000 for a new tuberculosis hospital, $1,000,000 for construction at the Chester county hospital for insane, and $1,280,000 to various state departments for additional construction or relief.

Two meetings of non-legislative bodies were scheduled in advance of the reconvening of the general assembly. They are the gatherings of the state federation of labor and the Legislative league. Both are expected to urge the legislators to support Governor Pinchot's one-cent gasoline tax proposal.

Injured Boy In Second Crash

Police Car Taking Lad To Hospital Hits Another Car

ACCIDENT NEAR NORTH ST. BRIDGE

City police car and a truck of the street department, crashed at North and Neshannock avenue, about one o'clock today, as the police car, driven by Officer Thomas Lynch was enroute to the Jameson Memorial hospital, with Robert Buxton, aged 13, who had been seriously hurt a few minutes previously in a fall from the cliff along Neshannock Narrows.

The police car with Officer Lynch at the wheel and Detective John Young and Policewoman Mrs. Minnie McKibben and the injured boy, were going west on Neshannock avenue, and planning to make the turn onto North street enroute to the hospital. The siren of the police car was being blown.

Joseph Barber of the street department was enroute north on North street and claims he did not hear the siren and the two machines came together right at the intersection.

The injured boy had to be taken to the hospital in another machine.

Robert Buxton is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lutes of Akron, O. He has head lacerations, back is injured and may be hurt internally.

The youth was visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. K. E. Voorhees of 17 West Edison avenue.

MRS. C. W. INGHAM SEVERELY HURT

Mrs. C. W. Ingham of 305 East Falls street, was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital early this afternoon suffering from injuries sustained in a fall in her home earlier in the day. It is feared that she has suffered either a fracture of the hip or a dislocation of the same. X-Ray pictures will have to be taken to determine the exact nature of her injury.

AUTO IS STOLEN FROM OWNERS DRIVE

Mrs. Eleanor Fahey of 212 Phillips street, reported to the police Sunday that her Ford roadster, Pennsylvania license 8626J had been stolen from the driveway of her home. No trace of the missing machine had been found late today.

PHILADELPHIA FIRE FIGHTERS OVERCOME

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—Felled by gas while battling a fire in the Capital theater here 18 or 40 firemen overcome last night were in hospitals today in serious condition.

Three of them were in respirators while the 15 others were undergoing treatment for asphyxiation at Pennsylvania and Jefferson hospitals.

The fumes, said to have been illuminating gas, were loosed when the heat of the blaze cracked a large gas pipe leading into the theater basement. The fire itself was not very destructive, only a portion of the basement being burned.

Firemen who braved the gas fell rapidly before the spreading gas. Others who rushed to their rescue were also overcome and virtually all fire apparatus in the city was called to the scene, together with ambulances and physicians from Hahneman, Jefferson and Pennsylvania hospitals. Twenty-two firemen were revived at the theater and were sent to their homes.

Recovery of Hosemen Charles Toner, 39; Adolph Reyes, 35, and John Marshall, the three who were placed in respirators, is doubtful, physicians said this morning.

Tax Refunds For 1931 Will Total Near $70,000,000

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Refunds to American taxpayers during the fiscal year 1931, amounting to $69,887,928 and including some of the country's best known names, were made public today in a report to the house committee on expenditures by the treasury.

Two cabinet officers—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont— were among those who benefitted by the treasury's decision that they had been over-assessed on income taxes.

The refund to Secretary Mellon amounted to $86,938.73. His brother, R. B. Mellon of Pittsburgh received a refund of $14,729.38 and Mrs. Jennie K. Mellon, of the same Pittsburgh address, $2,549.95. The report carried no explanation. Secretary Lamont received $10,964.

Three corporations were refunded more than $1,000,000 each. They were: Prairie Pipe Line Co., Independence, Kan., $1,784,490; Illinois Central Railroad, $1,158,675; United Verde Copper Co., $1,047,399. The MUKDEN, Dec. 28—Chinese bandits today brought airplanes into play in their guerilla warfare on southern Manchurian towns, routing residents with bombings which are known to have killed four and wounded several more.

The flying squadrons were doubly effective in being able to flee before Japanese troops arrived to suppress them. The airplanes made the bandits more dangerous than they have been at any time during the recent fighting in Manchuria.

Railroad Damaged.

The bandit-fliers, coming mainly from the hills west of the Peiping-Mukden railroad, continued striking the line and damaging it, breaking up communications and generally paralyzing business and war operations.

One hundred and thirty Chinese raided Wulingpei Hot Springs, 15 miles from Antung, and were going before police and troops arrived from Antung and Kaolimen, 25 miles north. They left four dead and one hundred policeman.

Bombs Are Dropped.

Three bombs were reported to have been dropped at Changwu, along the Tahushan-Tungliao branch of the railway.

The Japanese army headquarters here officially charged the 2500 bandits who seized the walled-city of Newchang a few hours after Japanese troops evacuated it yesterday belonging to volunteer corps controlled by the Chinese army at Chinchow.

More Money Is Added Today To Mayor's Relief

Expenses Mount During Past Week As Additional Aid Is Given

Additional contributions reported to the mayor's relief fund today totalled $63, bringing the total to date to $5626.33.

There was a heavier drain than usual on the relief fund last week, because of the additional food given out in the Christmas baskets, and the fact that many more applications were received for assistance during Christmas week.

The mayor's committee urges local citizens to contribute all they can to the fund, as the number being helped is steadily growing.

Those who are receiving assistance from the county are not aided through this fund, and in addition, most of those receiving assistance are working for what aid is given them.

Reward Spurs 500 To Search West Virginia Hills For Pilot

Lieut. E. H. Bobbitt, U. S. Army Pilot Is Man Being Sought

(International News Service)

ELKINS, W. Va., Dec. 28.—Missing for more than 72 hours in the wild hills of West Virginia, Lieut. E. H. Bobbitt, 24-year-old army pilot from Selfridge Field, Mich., today was given up for dead by relatives who posted a reward of $500 for recovery of the body.

Announcement of the reward greatly augmented the force of 500 men scouring the hills for some trace of the flier. Bobbitt vanished last Friday while on a flight from the Michigan field to Hot Springs, Va., he reached Uniontown, Pa., safely and hopped off for Elkins. He failed to arrive here.

A slushy snow covered the valleys today. Two or three inches of snow was reported in the mountains. An official weather report, listing cloudy weather and a low ceiling, prevented continuation of the search by air for the flier.

Scour Woods For Gang That Killed Young Farm Boy

YOUTH KILLED DEFENDING HOME

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 28.—County detectives scoured the wooded section west of here today in a desperate man-hunt for an unknown number of men who shot and killed an 18-year-old farm boy after they were refused admittance to the lad's home late last night.

The night prowlers endeavored to force entrance into the home of Steve Bodnar on his farm near Victoria. Bodnar braced himself against the door while his wife aroused the household.

Joseph, an 18-year-old, ran downstairs to aid his father. He fired through the door at the prowlers.

Members of the gang returned the gunfire. Five shots were fired through a window. Three bullets entered the youth's body, causing almost instant death. The intruders fled into a nearby woods.

Neighbors told state police they had seen several men prowling in

Just a few more days of living under nineteen thirty one, just a few more sleeps and wakings till the old year will be done, just a few more days until you make your resolutions new, though the old ones can be used again, they're just as good as new, for no sooner were they spoken than they took an awful flop, and it seems like sheer futility to get another crop. But it's fashion and its custom, as the old year slips away, to resolve some prohibitions, weather's forty six today.

Woman Urge World Court

Republican Women Seek To Make Clear Support Of Project

PENNSYLVANIANS AMONG LEADERS

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—A representative "National Committee of Republican Women for the World Court" announced here today that it had just been organized for the sole purpose of making clear—to the public and the Senate—the support which Republican Women throughout the country entertain for ratification of the three World Court protocols which the United States signed two years ago by the President's authority, and upon which the Senate Foreign Relations Committee somewhat over a week ago postponed action.

The Committee includes within its membership four women leaders of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Worthington Scranton, Republican National committee from the Keystone State, has been named a vice-chairmen. Mrs. George H. Lorimer, President of the Republican Women of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Howard Heinz and Mrs. Samuel Harden Church all of Pennsylvania, are listed as members.

The Committee in its announcement today urged Republican women throughout the country, as an outstanding party objective, to press for ratification this winter of the three World Court protocols which would complete the entry of the United States into that arbitration body. The Committee stated that it is now preparing to send to thousands of Republican women voters in all parts of the nation an urgent message for immediate, vigorous support for the policy endorsing the adherence of the United States to the Court.

The Committee is comprised of its seven officers and 37 members—Republican leaders from all parts of the country. The membership includes members of the Republican National Committee from Pennsylvania, Missouri, California, New Jersey, Michigan, District of Columbia, Delaware, South Dakota and Iowa.

terson, R. D. 5, New Castle, was awarded an income tax refund totaling $801.32.

Among other refunds in the state was $2,642.02 in income tax for the Butler Savings and Trust company. The verbal trust created January 15, 1923, by Alf J. Gumpper and W. P. Purvis of Butler, trustees, received an income tax rebate of $1,916.24.

The Sharon Steel Hoop company got back from Uncle Sam $3,646.35 it had paid as income tax and the estate of Frank H. Buhl of Sharon was granted the substantial refund of $261,613.47. This went to Fred W. and Julia F. Buhl of Sharon, executors.

A refund of $60,912.24 in income tax was allowed to the Crescent Portland cement company of Wampum, and the Duequesne Steel Foundry company of Coraopolis got a refund of $619.71. The McKeesport Tin Plate company was returned $4,197.20 it had paid the government as income tax, and the First National Bank of Greenville was refunded $1,016.71.

Clifford H. Beegle of Beaver Falls was granted a rebate of $1,216.88 and Mrs. Caroline May Hoopes of Beaver was allowed $587.14.

Other refunds, included $114,241 to the Lehigh Portland Cement Co., of Johnstown; $5,779 to the Garland Manufacturing Co., of Pittsburgh; $10,927 to the Johnson Limestone Co., of Pittsburgh; and $109,690 to the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. of Pittsburgh.

gray letters, much the same as the 1931 Ohio license plate.

Around the downtown today you could find signs galore of the passing of another Christmas holiday. Even though three more days of 1931 remain, the merchants hurried things up so that inventory and other year-end customs might be carried out on time. There were scores of business houses checking stocks today. Others were kept too busy to start the inventory work by a multitude of after-Christmas details.

The Christmas trees still stood today—and Pa Newc noticed most of the colored light bulbs were in their regular places. What a difference from last Monday.

Several collegians, homeward-bound for the Christmas rest period, used the hitch-hike method for traveling. And they do quite often. Pa was told of one who accompanied a helpful motorist the entire distance across the state and then at the end of his journey arranged to make the return trip in the sam car. The motorist was returning and didn't mind having company—and neither did the collegian mind the saving. But we understand others found their "thumbing" attempts most discouraging.

Unusual as it may seem, Young Pa Newc noticed several south side lads flying a kite this time of the year.

Using balloons on an out of doors Christmas tree, with flood-lights playing on them, presents a novel Christmas tree effect at a home on the Wilmington road.

On North Mercer street near Moody avenue, some householder was taking no chance of Santa missing the chimney. Colored lights are hung around the top of the chimney.

Congratulations New Bedford! Pa Newc saw the prettily lighted tree in front of the church at the big bend—and the verdict is that it is absolutely the nicest lighted one he has seen this year. The lights wink and create the illusion that the entire tree is revolving.

Pa Newc was out driving last night and after watching a steady stream of hundreds of cars on the roads, decided that everybody is out to get full use of their 1931 license plates. Only three more days, now.

From a very reliable source Pa Newc hears that the law that Pennsylvania automobiles must be inspected twice a year is to be very strictly enforced during 1932. Motorists will be allowed three months to get their inspection stickers and the next three months highway patrolmen will be busy making arrests.

The Mahatma was pleased with his enthusiastic welcome home, but was unable to conceal his anxiety over recent developments in India.

"Baby Killers" Are Acquitted

State's Case Against Vincent Coll And Frank Giardano, Collapses

BOTH MEN FACE PUNISHMENT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Vincent Coll and Frank Giordano, accused as the Harlem "baby killers," were acquitted today by a directed verdict. They were charged with the murder of five-year-old Michael Vangalli, who was shot and killed while playing in the streets last July when a gangster war was in progress.

The two defendants, however, were taken back to their cells in the Tombs—Giordano to await transfer to Sing Sing and the electric chair for another murder and Coll to be taken to The Bronx to face robbery and bail jumping charges.

The verdict was announced in Judge Joseph Corrigan's court.

Coll and Giordano smiled and waved to friends as they departed, for the "star" witness against them, George Brecht, formerly from St. Louis, did not escape without punishment, He was committed to Bellevue for observation.

Brecht was the only witness who placed the two defendants at the scene of the shooting. Yet the defense brought out during the trial that Brecht was a former convict and had given perjured testimony. This development caused the state's case to collapse.

Today, Assistant District Attorney Neary moved for a directed verdict "in the interests of justice".

P. R. R.'S FIRE NOT TO AFFECT SHOPS IN CITY

Altoona Blaze To Necessitate No Changes Here; Will In Places

New Castle's shops of the Pennsylvania railroad, Erie & Ashtabula division officials announced today, will feel only the slightest affect, if any, as a result of the disastrous $1,000,000 blaze that gutted a portion of the company's gigantic Altoona works on Sunday.

"It is likely that the Altoona works will re-organize its operating program immediately and take care of all the necessary temporary arrangements itself," Superintendent H. T. Frushour said. "The Cherry street car repair shop here will hardly be affected"

The office here explained that yesterday's fire ruined two machine shops and a shop which manufactured air brakes for the entire Pennsylvania system, an erecting shop, miscellaneous shop, welding shops and store rooms. It was not likely that any of the work done in any of them would necessitate temporary changes at any of the system's other shops.

Through press dispatches, Superintendent Frushour and shop officials here learned of the plans to erect a temporary airbrake shop. Other temporary quarters for carrying on special departmental programs were believed to be planned.

While it was not established for certain, officials thought a slight disruption in airbrake supplies furnished by Altoona may affect the local shops. However, it was understood that temporary schedules for supplying the output of the damaged airbrake shop were also being worked out. Shops at Pitcairn and Harrisburg may get additional work.

600 YEARS A HEALTH RESORT

(International News Service)

BAD TOLZ, Germany.— This old Bavarian health resort, noted for its iodine springs, is celebrating its 600th anniversary. In 1331 Ludwig the Bavarian gave the town its first character as a market place. The healing springs, which give relief yearly to thousands of sufferers from goiter and hardening of the arteries, were discovered in 1846. Bad Tolz received its city charter in 1906, on the occasion of its 575th anniversary.

tire local fire force and emergency companies from Hollidaysburg, Bellwood and nearby towns, the fire spread through the four-story machine shops, housed in two buildings, the air-brake shop, an erecting shop, welding shop, two storerooms and the miscellaneous shop.

The fire raged for several hours after it was discovered yesterday. Smoke from the burning shops spread over the city in a thick pall, attracting thousands of spectators to the scene.

Firemen were hampered by the intense heat and automobiles within a block of the burning area had to be moved to escape the searing wave of heat which poured from the blaze.

Officials of the railroad hurried here from Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and discussed plans for reconstruction of the plant. It was indicated today that a temporary air brake shop would be built immediately as brake work for the entire Pennsylvania system was done at the plant here.

Employees at the plant looked at the future with anxiety. Many of the 1100 thrown out of work by the fire were veterans of a score or more years' service.

The entire plant and all machinery will have to be replaced officials of the road said today and no estimate of the time necessary to rehabilitate the plant could be made.

Will Rebuild

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 28—Fire, most disastrous in the history of Altoona, which razed five units of the machine shop department of the local Pennsylvania railroad works with loss estimated at $1,000,000, will not throw the 1500 employees of the shops out of work, officials of the railroad announced here today.

Prolonged discussions, in a private car hurried here, between F. W. Hankins, chief of motive power, F. W. Grimshaw, manager of the Philadelphia works, and other officials of the road, were temporarily ended while officials announced plans for immediate re-construction of the levelled buildings and for transfer to other shops of the skilled machinists thrown out of employment temporarily by the blaze.

All workers at the shops plant, which was closed over the Christmas holiday, were called back today and set to clearing the debris from the block square area over which the fire raged. They were aided by 500 laborers hired by road officials who arrived here early today to lay plans for rebuilding the works.

Sent To Other Shops

Employees needed for immediate repairs of mechanical equipment it was announced, will be transferred immediately to the shops at Pitcairn and Harrisburg. Others will remain here and the bulk of workers will be distributed between other shops in the state under orders for continuation of the production schedule.

Loss from the blaze was fixed at a million dollars by railroad officials who surveyed the scene today.

First reports that several locomotives were destroyed were unfounded, officials said, and only one or two are expected to be completely unfit for use.

The portions of the shops plant destroyed in the blaze were part of the original buildings erected by the railroad here in 1850. The yards and shop site were laid out in 1849. Only new buildings razed by the fire were the two erecting shops.

FAITH

We often hear of the mis-fit in professions or in other words a man has taken up a profession in which he never becomes proficient no matter how long he would follow that profession. We know of no one to be pitied so much as the man who has taken up as his life work the profession of a mortician and prove to be a mis-fit, as this is one of the professions that requires a man with many different requirements than most any other profession, or the public will soon lose faith in his ability.

Mothers welcome Vick "Colds-Control" Plan

Mothers are constantly faced with the problem of colds and their costs. It is the mothers, therefore, who especially appreciate the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds" in the home—just perfected by the makers of Vicks VapoRub. The Vick Plan is made possible by a new preparation, Vicks Nose and Throat Drops, based on a new idea in preventing colds. It is a companion product to VapoRub, the modern external method of treating colds. That is, they aid and supplement each other.

HERE, BRIEFLY, IS THE NEW VICK PLAN:

1. BEFORE a Cold Starts—

Watch yourself and your children when exposed to anything that you know is apt to bring on a cold, such as—Contact with others having fresh colds—crowds, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, public places—a night on a Pullman or a dusty automobile ride—sudden changes in temperature—inhaling smoke, dust, gases—excesses in living, such as over-eating, which reduce body resistance—after a hard day when you are over-tired.

Then—if you feel that stuffy, sneezy irritation of the nasal passages, Nature's usual signal that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose Drops at once, just a few drops up each nostril. Repeat every hour or so if needed. This will prevent many colds by stopping them before they get beyond the nose and throat—where most colds start.

2. AFTER a Cold Starts—

At night, massage the throat and chest well with Vicks VapoRub (now available in white "stainless" form, if you prefer). Spread on thick and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-clothing loose around the neck so that the medicated vapors arising can be inhaled all night long.

If the air-passages are badly clogged with mucus, melt some VapoRub in a bowl of hot water and inhale the steaming vapors for several minutes. (If there is a cough, you will like the new Vick Cough Drop—actually medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub.)

During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment and without the risks of too much internal "dosing," which so often upsets digestion—especially of children.

TRIAL OFFER BY LOCAL DRUGGISTS

Proof of this Plan is in its trial—in your own home. Get a bottle of Vicks Drops today. Keep it alongside your trusted Vicks VapoRub. Use them together as directed. Their better "Control-of-Colds" will be noted in fewer colds—colds of less severity and shorter duration. An actual saving to you in money, loss of time and health. Otherwise, the test will cost you nothing. Unless you are delighted with results, your druggist is authorized to refund your money.

Scotland Union

The Scotland Union of the W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. George Pitzer Friday afternoon, with eleven members and one visitor present.

Mrs. Wylie Wallace had charge of the meeting and Mrs. Jennie Wilson led the devotionals, each member taking part in the prayer and song service.

A letter was read from Mrs. Ella Black, state president and the union voted to give their quota to the legislative fund.

The reports included 13 sick calls, 14 garments, 3 letters of sympathy and $2.25 in cash.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Pitzer, assisted by Mrs. Chambers.

LOOKING FORWARD

THERE will be no moaning at the bar when the year 1931 puts out to sea. It is a year of few happy memories, a year of hardships and anxiety and distress. Nobody bade it come and everybody gladly speeds its parting.

All the world will strive to forget the misfortunes and disappointments of this unhappy twelvemonth, yet, if it is wise, it will not soon forget the lessons it has taught. Sad experience has taught many bitter lessons since last New Year's day.

This generation should be the wiser and stronger for having gone through such a year. It now ought to know what those sweet uses of adversity are. Fewer illusions and prejudices remain to blind the unwary. Though none will be so naive as to believe that man will never again make the economic, financial and political mistakes which brought him so much woe this year, it is not placing too much confidence in the animal to say that he will not repeat them in 1932.

No appraisal of the year now closing can be adequate without taking these things into account. They are the little assets set against multitudinous and mountainous liabilities, but properly invested in the years to come they will pay good dividends.

It is well, and a hopeful sign, that all eyes are now turned away from the old year and toward the new. Every member of the 1931 graduating class of the school of hard knocks is the better prepared for whatever the year 1932 may bring.

POSTOFFICE SITE HOLD-UP ENDED

According to announcement made on Saturday, the hold-up over the barber shop site at the new postoffice location on the public square, due to a recently made new lease, has been ended. A satisfactory arrangement has been made, whereby it will not be necessary for the government to conduct condemnation proceedings with the accompanying long delay that would have been occasioned before the work of construction could be started.

With this final obstruction out of the way, the acquisition of the site can be speedily accomplished. Plans are already being drawn for the building, and it is expected that as soon as the site is legally acquired, bids can be asked for the new building.

It is not believed that it will be a great while before actual operations will be under way. All of the structures now on the diamond site will have to be razed. This work can be started as soon as the property is actually acquired by the government. Negotiations are being pushed on this step and their completion will be announced very shortly, it is expected.

There is nothing in the way to cause further delay of any consequence in carrying out the preliminaries leading up to letting of the contract, it is understood.

The actual work can't be started too soon to suit the people of New Castle.

THE NATIONAL GAME

The story of the remarkable tournament in New York, between four masters of the game of contract bridge, stirs the ambition of many to excel in this game. Those who wish to learn might as well realize that to win any special distinction, they must study its principles as they would a school or college lesson. Bridge is not a primary school pastime.

Players who cultivate their memories so they remember what bids have been made and what cards have been played, and who master the main principles of the game, will be superior to the average.

They need not merely to know the principles of the game, but they should be able to apply them as soon as they glance at their cards, and hear the various bids made. Bridge is a speedy sport. Players who delay, hesitate, and ponder, are not popular and get few invitations.

SOCIALISM FAILS IN AUSTRALIA

Following the example of Great Britain, Australia has overthrown her Socialist government by a decisive vote. The Prime Minister, Mr. Scullin, has been defeated. The United Australia party and the Country party together have won fifty-three seats in the new House of Representatives against sixteen for the Government. This gives the leaders of the coalition, Mr. Lyons, who will now become Prime Minister, a good working majority. Coalitions, to be sure, are often uncertain; but in this case no rift within the lute is in prospect. The people are clearly tired of government interference in business and of all the panaceas which our own Insurgents have recommended for this country.

The Australian experiment dates back to 1907. A year or more ago it brought the Dominion to the very verge of bankruptcy, and the Bank of England had to be called in to reorganize its disrupted finances. Among the schemes which proved to be dire failures were government operation of the railways, by the states or by the commonwealth; the fixing by law of a minimum wage; a system of export bounties in the face of continuously rising tariffs. In 1929 and 1930, when both the states and the commonwealth were trying to check the borrowing of money, no less than $100,000,000 was borrowed abroad, and the interest charges on the public debt had become twice as much. It was a bottomless pit of extravagance. Prices rose, unemployment increased, and last April New South Wales defaulted on its debt, despite the guarantee of the commonwealth.

That the Australians have not revolted before is surprising. But Socialist theories were deeply embedded among them, and nothing less than the almost complete destruction of credit has at last brought them to their senses. The picture is one that some of our own politicians may gaze upon with profit.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

You Can't MAKE Friends They Bud on Your Life And They Make You

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

If you thing you can make friends you were never mistaken in your life.

Friends aren't made as manufacturers make washing machines, as millionaires make money. They happen! Suddenly you look up and there's a friend alongside of you and you feel an easy certainty that he will always be there.

He will not get away. He will not waver. If you get into trouble he will not say: "I'm disappointed in Jim I didn't know he was that sort of fellow." He'll stick without understanding. Let others sit in judgement on you—he will not. He will not be reasonable or judicial about his friendship for you. He'll just be your friend, and that will be enough.

I know a man who said, in a moment of great trouble for himself "When you mix logic and friendship it turns to treason!"

It does. Cold reason about your friend is the first step toward unfriendliness, the first treasonable departure from him and your friendship.

You did not MAKE that friend. He budded as naturally on your life as the buds come to the brown limb of a tree in early spring. He arrived because you needed him and he became a living part of you. And if he is truly that kind of friend you cannot argue about him, you cannot deny him away.

If you can do that, he was never the friend you thought he was. He was merely an acquaintance, a convenience, someone you picked up along the way just for company's sake—someone you may bid farewell at the next fork of the road, with hardly a moment's regret.

Some people boast of all the friends they have made. If they do sit it down that they don't have no real friends at all. It is not a word to be used so lightly. You may boast of how the garden is growing or how many miles you get from a gallon of gas, but you cannot—and you must not—boast of the precious luck of friendship. It is in the heart, it flows through the arteries and works its way into the veins of life. It's where you LIVE and if you have only one friend you may count yourself, forever, among those Fortunate Mortals who have had the best of life.

THE DRAWBACK

I know a surgeon calm and wise,
The hand of death he stays,
He's marvelous where danger lies,
But awful bridge he plays.

I know a warrior brave and bold
Who fought at Vimy Ridge,
His fame in history shall be told,
But he's a dub at bridge!

I know a man whose fortunes mount
Beyond the dreams of bards,
And yet at bridge he cannot count
Exactly thirteen cards.

There is a lawyer, best of men
On whom a case to rest,
Who cannot see to learn just when
A queen should be finessed.

And so I think in moments when
Misplays my partners call,
That many of our greatest men
Can't play the game at all.

NO BEES HANGOUT

They were stopping at a big hotel and the wife, returning from a shopping tour, found that on their floor all the doors looked alike. She picked what she thought was the right one, knocked and whispered:

"I'm back honey! Let me in."

No answer.

"Honey! Oh, honey! I say I'm back."

Still no answer.

"Oh, say, honey, let me in! You hear me, honey?"

Then a strange man's voice bellowed from the inside: "Madam, this is not a beehive! This is a bathroom!".

Chicago As Conventional Host Hopes To Help Self And Party

Republican Party Selects Central Meeting Place Which Is Declared Identified With Decades Of Political History.

Selection of Chicago for the Republican National Convention was resulted according to the majority of comments, from the city's determination to redeem her civic standing and the party's desire for additional strength in the west.

"Chicago has promised" says the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS, "that factionalism and hostile political demonstrations, such as were witnessed in 1920, will be taboo; that stern measures will be adopted to maintain decorum at all times." The Argus discloses that "Chicago is exceedingly anxious to make a favorable showing" and that "Mayor Cermak is desirous of proving to the country that the city attitude toward crime has changed." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS ranks Chicago as "the leading convention city for most purposes, because it has the most to offer" and that paper adds: "Somewhat under suspicion of being the lawbreakers' paradise, it wants to show how groundless that suspicion is." The Evening News avers that it "is in many ways physically the most highly developed city in the country" that "in recent years the municipal improvements and engineering feats effected have been among the world's wonders."

"Chicago will take good care of the convention" is the assurance given by the DAVENPORT DEMOCRATIC, with a statement of the "certainty that a meeting there would attract a larger attendance than one held nearer any of the countrys borders or coasts." The TOLEDO BLADE observes that the arrangements was brought about after "the president of the Chicago Association of Commerce gave the assurance that bad characters were locked up," and "pictures were shown of the new Stadium—an auditorium equipped to seat 21,000 in a 70 degree ice-cooled atmosphere." The HARTFORD TIMES advises that "it is needless to point out that Chicago, despite the oceans of notoriety that have almost inundated it, is second to no municipality in the country in civic pride." The Times concludes that "the up-and-doing spirit of Chicago is demonstrated by the fact that, although it is already in the midst of preparations for the great world's fair of 1933, it didn't think it too much an added burden to bid for both national conventions."

"The Republicans" thinks the ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS, "could have done much worse than select Chicago for their battle of the century. For that matter the Democrats could do worse than to meet there in this coming year of great opportunities. And the convention funds, accompanying the bidding, are worthy of consideration at a time when campaign contributions might not be over-generous. With so much ready cash on hand, incidentally, one might hazard the opinion that Chicago might decide to reimburse its public school teachers for services rendered, one of these fine days. Though of course, it cannot be expected that education will be permitted to interfere with politics. That never happened."

San Francisco has been a candidate for the role of convention host, and the CHRONICLE of that city remarks that "even if Chicago has the usual brand of Midwestern summer weather on tap, the delegates can put up with it for a day or two." That paper adds that "it must be conceded that the tip of Lake Michigan is nearer the center of population than is San Francisco."

"Chicago is a city of marked and genuine culture" says the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, 'Its well endowed art institutions, its great university, its manifold equipment for the intellectual and inspirational advancement of mankind, are among the finest in the world. And all this must be said despite the sorry reputation for law and order that has been acquired by the Lake Michigan metropolis during the last few years or organized thuggery within its municipal borders."

"No city will be more strategic than any other for convention purposes," asserts the HAZELTON STANDARD-SENTINEL, "but a convention in Chicago will prove strategic for that city." The ROANOKE TIMES, however, points out that 'the Republicans will be meeting in 'the enemy's country' when they go to Chicago, the State of Illinois and the city having returned sweeping Democratic majorities in the last election." The Times suggests that the party may seek to "start a wave of enthusiasm which will sweep the State back to its ancient political moorings." The HOUSTON CHRONICLE concludes: "The G. O. P. has selected Chicago, has come to a state which is today frankly doubtful, shaken from the Republican moorings of 60 years. To win back the West is good political strategy. It was shrewd policy on the part of the Republican national committee to visit Kansas City in 1928. It it probably as canny a move to go West again to Chicago in 1932."

"The convention which will begin on June 14 next 'records the NEW YORK SUN, "will be the eleventh Republican gathering there since the foundation of the party. Only three of the nominees—Blaine, Taft and Hughes—were defeated. Lincoln was named there in 1860, Grant in 1868. Garfield in 1880, Harrison in 1888: Roosevelt in 1904, Taft in 1908 and Harding in 1920. It was a lucky convention city for Grover Cleveland, who was named there in 1884 and in 1892; his losing nomination came to him at St. Louis. Bryan was nominated twice in Chicago. In 1904 both parties convened in that favored city."

"The city must create at atmosphere of friendly welcome and generously courteous treatment that will leave lasting impresson," advises the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

THE BLIND LED THE BLIND

Standing on a busy street intersection in Berkeley, California, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, blind since birth, waited for some one to help her across.

A man stepped up to her and asked "May I go across with you?"

"I'd be very glad if you would," replied Mrs. Wilson.

Safely across the street, the man thanked Mrs. Wilson.

"Why, I want to thank you," she said.

"You know," the man continued, "when one has been blind as many years as I have, it is a mighty big favor to have some one help him across the street."

WORDS OF PRAISE

Wives like praise when they have prepared something which they believe to be exceptionally good and appetizing for a meal.

Like most members of your sex you think the fact that you ate of it heartily is sufficient recommendation of the meal.

Maybe true, but your better half would get considerable satisfaction out of it if you complimented her genuinely and heartily.

It should not be hard to speak words of praise for satisfaction.

But it is not sufficient if a wife must ask your opinion before you will express the satisfaction that her culinary effort merits.

The compliment that is begged loses its flavor.

Even with the many conveniences which are provided today for the preparation of a good meal it requires considerable work and planning and a watchful supervision to prepare edibles to a perfect degree of excellence.

It means that a wife has to devote much time and thought to bring about such a result.

Perhaps it looks easy to you because you are not at home when the time and care are given to the first preparation of food on the menu.

Good results are not haphazard and a wife deserves heartfelt appreciation freely expressed to repay her for the time expended.

Railroad Relief Measures Urged

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—Revision of those provisions of the Transportation Act which directly and adversely affect the credit of the railways is needed "to preserve, in the public interest, railway credit and adequate transportation service" in 1932 R. H. Aishton, President of the American Railway Association and Chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, declared in a statement issued here today.

Mr. Aishton frankly admitted that the railroads have suffered in the current depression, like industry in general, generally because of the present business situation. But then, without beating about the bush, he laid down the ultimatum that it is up to the Federal Government to aid in the recovery by legislating fairly in favor of the carriers.

In addition to business conditions Mr. Aishton said the present problems of the railroads are due in part to two other factors. He listed these as:

"1.—Defects in the present regulatory system which prevents the railroads from building up their reserves in normal times so as to enable them to be prepared to face conditions such as now exist, for no system can be termed sound which encourages reductions in rates in prosperous times and necessitates increases in times of economic depression.

"2—Lack of appropriate regulation so far as interstate commerce is concerned, of the various agencies of transportation designed to bring about a complete and coordinated system of transportation embracing all land and water agencies."

An upturn in business with the resultant increases in traffic would undoubtedly be of immense aid to the rail transportation systems of the nation, Mr. Aishton said. But, he added, certain steps by the Federal Government toward assisting the carriers through fair legislation, are needed.

Certain provisions of the Transportation Act should be revised, Mr. Aishton contended. Provisions should also be made for the necessary regulation of all agencies furnishing transportation for hire so that stability will be established and an equal opportunity created among them to compete for the commerce of the nation, he thought.

He also called attention to the fact that taxes impose a heavy burden on the railways of this country. Railroad taxes now are approximately fourteen per cent higher than they were ten years ago, "and it will require the net revenue of the railroads of the United States for a period of four months out of the twelve months to pay their taxes in 1931."

In the matter of traffic, the year 1931 has been a "sad disappointment" said Mr. Aishton. "Earnings have correspondingly failed to improve, despite the great strides forward made by the carriers in recent years in the matter of increased efficiency and economy of operation."

By citing figures of reports and estimates, Mr. Aishton told why 1931 has been a "sad disappointment." His data estimated that in 1931 class I railroads would have a net railway operating income equivalent to a return of only 1.99 per cent on their property investment, as contrasted with a return of 3.36 for 1930.

The rate of return for 1931 will be lower than for any year since 1920, according to Mr. Aishton. In that year, the rails had a net operating income equivalent to a return of only 0.21 per cent on their property investment. The rate of return, however, climbed to 2.84 in 1921, to 3.58 in the following year, to 4.33 in 1923, slipped off slightly to 4.21 in 1924, went to 4.74 in 1925, to 4.98 in 1926, fell to 4.29 in 1927, increased to 4.64 in 1928 and to 4.84 in 1929. Last year, the rate of return fell abruptly to 3.36 and will further recede to about 1.99 for the current year, the estimates of the Railway Association predict.

Preliminary reports, which will not be complete for several weeks, indicate that loading of freight revenue in 1931 will total 37,250,000 cars, a reduction of 8,630,000 cars or 18.8 per cent under that of 1930, and 15,577,000 cars or 29.5 per cent under 1929. Measured in net ton miles, the volume of freight handled in 1931 will be, complete reports are expected to show, 340,000,000,000 net ton miles, a reduction of 19.5 per cent under 1930 and 30.9 per cent below 1929.

Passenger traffic of class 1 roads in 1931 was less than for any year within the last twenty seven amounting to 21,800,000,000 passenger miles, Mr. Aishton said. This was a reduction of 53.5 per cent under the record year of 1920.

The greatest efficiency on record in the use of fuel by road locomotives was obtained by the carriers in 1931. An average of 118 pounds of fuel was required this year to haul 1,000 tons of freight and equipment a distance of one mile. This average was the lowest ever attained since the compilation of records commenced in 1918.

Fortune In Sawdust In Many New Uses

Furriers, Jewelers, Chewing Gum Makers Among Those Who Now Utilize It

When sawdust floors were swept out with the passing of the old saloon, and velvet-piled rugs were laid to soften the tread in speakeasies, the versatile sawdust sellers were not perturbed. They simply found another use for their product, which they buy as waste from the large sawmills.

One of the largest firms in the business sells 25,000,000 pounds of sawdust a year—at two cents a pound. After it arrives in trainloads it is first pulverized, like flour, then it is dyed according to its purpose. Sawdust takes dye beautifully, and in window displays it has no equal for carrying out a color scheme.

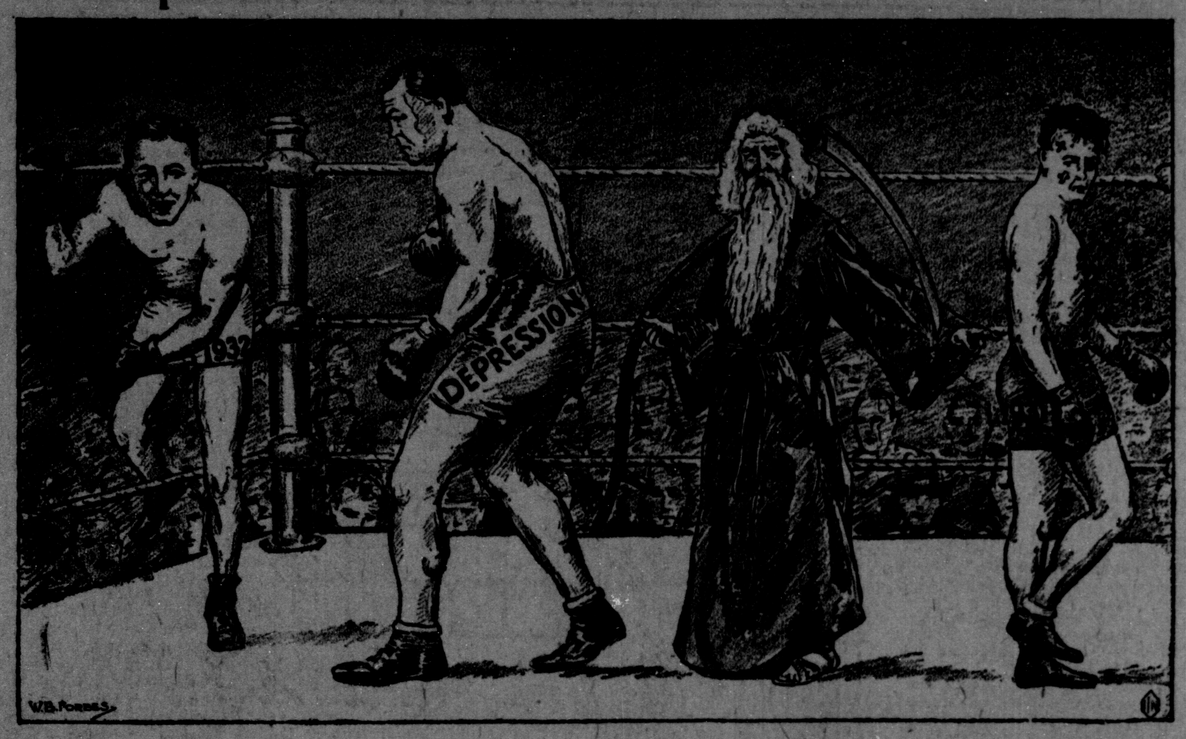

Furriers probably consume the most sawdust for use in cleaning processes. Jewelers polish precious metal with it. Gum manufacturers purify chewing gum with it. Department stores order quantities in which to pack and ship breakable merchandise. Metal workers shine up their wares with sawdust. Meat packers smoke meat with it. It is the principal product in sweeping compounds, and it goes into composition floors and miniature golf courses.

No Action Taken In Adoption Case

No action was taken at court this morning on a petition of Christine Frank to adopt Reeda Di Caprio, 22 months old daughter of Lena and Gregorio Di Caprio. In her petition Mrs. Frank had stated that she is the mother of Lena Di Caprio, and that Lena has deserted her husband, and three children, and that her whereabouts is unknown. Mr. De Caprio has been taking care of two of the children at the Margaret Henry Home. He had signed the papers giving consent to the adoption, but this morning withdrew his consent having made other arrangements.

Mrs. Culbertson Will Return To Bridge Battle

Wife Of Ely Culbertson Will Again Play In Contract Bridge Battle

CULBERTSON HAS 17,090 AS LEAD

(Following is another article in the series by Josephine Culbertson, wife of Ely Culbertson and with him originator of the approach-forcing system of contract bidding, is writing for International News Service on the Culbertson-Lenz bridge match.)

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON
World's Greatest Woman Bridge Player
(Copyright, 1931, International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—I am going back tonight to play a few more rubbers in the match between my husband and Sidney S. Lenz to test the accuracy of the approach-forcing system of contract bidding as compared with the official system which Mr. Lentz, largely devised and which he represents.

I played 48 rubbers in the early part of the match, which starts tonight with the ninety-six rubber, and we faced rather unfavorable cards. This, coupled with the excellent play of Mr. Lentz and his partner Oswald Jacoby, gave them a lead which at one time reached more than 7000 points, but which I am glad to say had entirely disappeared, when I temporarily quit the match to do my Christmas shopping.

Has Been Spectator

While Ely has been playing with other partners I have been sitting in the press room analysing the bidding and play. I have tried to be impartial and disinterested and I think I have.

It has been a very pleasureable experience working side by side with the representatives of great press associations and metropolitan newspapers, seeing them handle a big story with surprising skill considering the fact that it was the first time that bridge had been first page news.

There are still fifty-five rubbers to be played. Our lead of 17,090 points is such as to make me feel reasonably certain of the outcome. However, the only thing certain about cards is their uncertainty. Mr. Lenz and Mr. Jacoby may hold tremendous hands and couple them with their wonderful play. Should this occur even 17,000 points might not last long.

I am not pessimistic. I believe in the superiority of our system but I do not want any of my friends to get the idea that the contest is over.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

To Start Hearings On Consolidation Of Roads Next Week

Local Railroad Men Are Interested In Coming Proceedings At Capitol

Local railroad employes are looking forward with expectancy to the hearings which will be held by the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington on the Four-System plan for consolidation of railroads in the eastern group, which will start January 6.

The groups affected are the Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio, New York Central and Pennsylvania.

The plan was submitted to the Commission on October 1, in an application asking for a reopening of the consolidation proceeding, and for change and modification of the plan adopted and published by the Commission on December 9, 1929.

To the Baltimore and Ohio system, it is proposed to add the Ann Arbor railroad, by purchase of the controlling stock. This road traverses the state of Michigan, between Frankfort and Toledo, O., and at Frankfort, is connected by car ferry with Manitowoc and Kewaunee, Wis., and Menominee and Manistique, Michigan.

Trackage rights over the Pennsylvania system between Driftwood and Williamsport, on the proposed line across the state which will connect Chicago with New York by the shortest route are also asked by the B. and O.

The B. and O. has already taken over the B. R. and P. and Buffalo and Susquehanna roads and is operating them under plans approved by the Commission.

These are the only changes that affect the local district, but local people are vitally interested in the approval of the consolidation, as it is believed that it will eventually result in New Castle becoming one of the most important railroad centers on the B. and O. system.

Electric Bureau To Be Discussed

Council Hopes To Devise Way Of Saving Money During Year

Cost of maintainence and salaries of employes of the city electric bureau will be among the matters discussed when council makes an effort today to pare down the 1932 budget.

Sometime ago it was suggested by Councilman Burns that the cost may be lightened if the work was left out on contract.

Four thousand dollars was appropriated for the electric bureau during 1931. About $3,200 was paid in salaries.

There have been two electricians, it was explained Saturday in charge of the city work.

The work includes keeping the Gamewell fire alarm system and some lights of the city in operation.

Upon the suggestion of Mayor-elect Mayne the matter was left over until today to be discussed fully.

Councilman Reeves later pointed out that formerly the city had three electricians, instead of two, as at present.

"You had three sanitary policemen, too and the health of the city is all right. I'm for the people" remarked Mayne.

"We're all for the people" declared Councilmen Treser and Reeves in unison.

"We have to take this up later" said Councilmen-elect Davies.

"We have to do some things we do not want to do" remarked Councilman-elect Hoyland. Conditions are bad. Things are not going to get any better, according to indications.

"The city has to go out and borrow money," Hoyland continued, "We have to build up the budget for 12 months so during the last three months the city will not have to borrow. We must put ourselves on a cash and carry basis."

MY NEW YORK

BY JAMES ASWELL

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—It was a curious experience tonight—going back to that first romantic brownstone I lived in in New York and finding it a speakeasy. Answering the invitation of a young Italian I've known for years in and out of many restaurants, I taxied to his new salon in West 15th street without realizing until the bell was punched, that this was where my first headquarters were ensconced—where I devised intricate and foolish strategies for conquering the town.

Of old, the parlor floor, which I rented with a roommate, was a vast red plush memento of the nineties, decorated with enormous crystal chandeliers and let furnished by an eccentric collector of firearms. We used to haul out his derringers and squarrel guns for the amusement of guests, and it was only by accident that no one was cut by the wicked scimitars and stiletoes which completed an antique arsenal.

Then we paid $75 a month. Now the proprietor parts with $400 for our quarters and the basement. That's because the landlord knows what goes on (he's a new landlord, incidentally) and the walls are lined with intimate cushioned booths.

It is always a little shocking to collide suddenly with the arena where young, far-away days burned out; and more than that to find it radically changed, alien, but still somehow heavy with the mist of the past. New York becomes then a city like Wonderland, where the past abruptly telescopes the future and the present becomes bewildering and elusive. I wonder whether there is another town like this. . . . .

HOT NEWS

When Jack "Legs" Diamond was murdered recently, the head of a great news organization wanted to get in touch with Damon Runyon at once, to have him cover the yarn. Mr. Runyon, however, had left strict orders with the desk clerk of his hotel that he was not to be disturbed next morning. The executive threatened and pled with the hotel employees and the manager. They would not go back on their promise and ring the celebrated Mr. Runyan's phone.

At length the news chief, a graduate newspaperman of resource, hit upon a ruse. He phone the sergeant in the police precinct nearest Damon's tavern. Fifteen minutes later an officer called at the hotel, marched to the writer's room and woke him up.

GRAB BAG

How long a leap does the kangaroo make?

What are young seals called?

How many dogs are there in United States?

Correctly Speaking—

"So" is vague and weak when used alone to modify an adverb. Say "During the first semester I was very lonely," not "During the first semester I was so lonely."

Today's Anniversary

On this day, in 1856, Woodrow Wilson, twenty-eighth president, was born.

Today's Horoscope

Persons born on this day are fearless, courageous, strenuous, but with all this, very polite in some ways.

Answers to Foregoing Questions

1. When standing erect, the giant kangaroo is nearly as tall as a man, and in full flight makes bounds of from 10 to 12 feet.
2. The young ones are called pups.
3. There are approximately 7,000,000 dogs in the United States.

(NOTE: Kindly do not address questions to the Grab Bag, as the Grab Bag Editor answers none.)

Ends Sickness From Gas, Acid

Mrs. R. M. Converse of Erie, Pa., says, "I was always tired out and troubled with a lot of gas. Every night I would be awfully sick. I used ACIDINE and it did me much good. I surely am feeling fine now—tired feeling, gas and acid all gone. I am a changed woman."

End gas, sourness, heartburn, dizziness, sleeplessness, headache resulting from acidity. Maker guarantees ACIDINE will end stomach trouble or refunds money. All druggists have ACIDINE.

Food Faddists Ignore Scientific Knowledge Of Dietetic Foundation

Principles of Nutrition Proved And Tested, But Diet Truths Are Still Distorted, Avers Dr. Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Our knowledge of diet is more scientific than nearly any other field in practical medicine. The principles of nutrition have been proved and tested over and over again.

In spite of the exactness of this knowledge, false dietetic ideas are widely preached. Fads ingeniously distorting established truths are used as the stock in trade of many advisers of the public. It may be well, therefore, to examine the solid foundations of the science of dietetics.

Food furnishes animals with the material for movement, life and growth. That is all it does. It can do harm only when (1) it is insufficient for these purposes, or (2) it is more than sufficient and clogs the machinery, or (3(when it introduces harmful elements into the body ,such as poisons (eating poisonous plants, mistaking them for wholesome vegetables or eating infected meat), or (4) when it introduces some element which produces disease in the digestive system such as infection with parasites or germs.

Of the necessities of the body we can group movement and life together as energy. The movement of a muscle requires energy and the life processes that go on from such things as the secretion of a gland requires energy.

There are six elements in foodstuffs, classified as (1) carbohydrates, (2) fats, (3) proteins, (4) water, (5) minerals and (6) vitamins.

All of them contribute to the production of energy. We have no definite way of measuring the energy value of water, minerals and vitamins. But the value of carbohydrates, fats and proteins we are able to measure very accurately in terms of the energy unit, now familiar to nearly everyone under the name "calorie."

The calorie is an amount of heat. We have to use the calorie because we cannot measure the energy content of food by weight or bulk. Other energy-producing materials are similar. One log of wood may give twice as much heat when burned as another log of exactly the same size and weight. One brand of gasoline gives you more mileage than another.

The calorie used in dietic calculations is the amount of heat required to raise a kilogram of pure water one degree on the centigrade thermometer as 15 degrees centigrade. In terms of bodily movement it is the amount of energy used up when you rise from a sitting position in front of a door, turn the key in the lock, and sit down again.

We know how much energy carbohydrates, fats and proteins yield per gram when they are in a pure form. Roughly, it is four calories per gram for carbohydrates and proteins and nine calories per gram of fats. There is a slight difference between different kinds of these substances. For instance, olive oil produces 9.3 calories per gram, and butter 9.1 calories per gram. Glucose produces 3.6 and starch 4.1 calories per gram.

Tomorrow we will discuss in more detail the nature of the carbohydrates.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constiuation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

May Improve Euclid Avenue, Reynolds St.

It is probable that Euclid avenue and Reynolds street will be paved and if possible Butler avenue extension will be graded and ashed during 1932, according to a discussion when council and officials-elect convened to compile the budget Saturday.

It developed that Reynolds street would cost the city about $6,000 and Euclid avenue about $7,500. Council indicated $15,000 would be appropriated to take care of the work if the council could find some way to provide the money for the budget.

Discuss Cut Of Police, Firemen

Will Try And Effect Saving On Electric Light Cost

"Going to cut salaries in the police department?" asked Councilman Louis Genkinger of colleagues and officials to be sworn into office in January, when the body convened to make budget for 1932 at city hall, Saturday.

"If we have to I have a proposition" said Mayor-elect Mayne. There are 46 persons in the police department and 42 in the department of fire. That makes 88. There are 12 or more other jobs paying about $1,800 or more and I thought a 10 per cent cut would provide for improvements If we can cut the light bill about 25 per cent it won't be necessary" he said.

"It cannot be done this year" said Councilman Burns. Delay would be suffered while the matter was before the Public Service Commission.

Mayne said that the only hope of saving here was in changing the candlepower as "you can't change the contract," after which a discussion of possible changes took place. It was decided to not take action definitely until council had told Louis Round, Pennsylvania Power company that "the city must save the money." Later in the day Round attended council session and it is possible that some sort of an arrangement, other than affecting the contract may be entered into.

WRITES OF HOME

Maccabee Home,
Chatham, Pa.,
December 25, 1931.

To The Editor:—

The Maccabees maintain two homes for aged members, one at Chatham, Pa. for men and the other at Alma, Michigan, for women. Since the home at Chatham was established in 1905, eighty members have been guests. Forty-two have passed over to the Spirit World from the home, eight have withdrawn and there are now thirty-seven residents at the present time. The home for aged women was founded in 1928 and twenty members have been guests and there are now fifteen in the home at the present time. The ages are from 55 to 90 years.

We have organized a lodge here, which meets every second Tuesday in the month. W. Cassidy, our head farmer, has been accepted in the order and your scribe is the master at arms.

I am in the best of health, happy and contented and a very busy man. On arriving here I weighed 135 pounds, now I weigh 153. I receive The News every week. We have all kinds of papers but there is not one that comes up to The News.

In conclusion, I wish you and all your co-workers a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year, not forgetting Jake, Joe Bulger and Matilda, yes and the Hints and Dints man. Trusting there will be a Christmas cheer in every home, I am,

Very truly yours,
Daniel John.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

Military history of Lawrence county and New Castle shows that many men from this city and county were members of the One Hundred and Fifty-Ninth Regiment (Fourteenth Cavalry). They were scattered through its various companies. It was organized at Pittsburgh and equipped at Hagerstown, Maryland. It performed picket duty for some time at Charleston, West Virginia, during the winter of 1862-1863. For several months in 1863 did duty in Western Virginia, being attached to the command of General Averill. At the battle of Gettysburg, the regiment, which had been transferred to Maryland, crossed into Virginia and took up the pursuit of Lee, being actively engaged in the vicinity of the Potomac, Fallins Waters, about Manchester and White Sulphur Springs. In was in the movements in Western and Southern Virginia during the winter of 1863-1864, fighting at Droop Mountain and destroying the Virginia and Tennessee Railway and supplies of the Rebel army to the extent of more than $3,000,000. During these raids, the Fourteenth Cavalry lost about fifty men in killed, wounded and missing. It continued with Averill's command in their raid through West Viriginia and lost many in killed and wounded, particularly at Core Gap. It participated in General Huster's operations on the James river, and was with him when Earlym, with an entire corps from Lee's army, compelled him to retreat toward the Ohio river. The march was a severe one and a number of men died of hunger. From Parkersburg, it returned by rail to Martinsburg. July 20 Averill attacked Early at Winchester and defeated him, but on the 24th, the fortunes of war were reversed when the entire command of Early attacked the commands of Crook and Averill. These commands fell back to the Potomac, contesting every inch of ground and finally withdrew to Hagarstown, Maryland. The enemy under the command of McCausland burned the town of Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, and was followed by Averhill from that town to Moorfield on the Potomac. Averill's command there defeated the combined forces of McCausland, Johnson, Gilmore and McNeill, with heavy loss and in this engagement, the Fourteenth lost ten killed and twenty-five wounded. The regiment was afterward in all the engagements with Sheridan which resulted in the destruction of Early's army. They participated with the division under General Powell at Front Royal, when McCausland was made to retreat, with the loss of his guns and supply trains. During the winter of 1864-1865, they were in engagement at Millwood, and at Ashby's gap and on April 18, 1865 were present at the surrender of General Mosby, April 29, they moved on to Washington, D. C., and participated in the Grand Review in May and in June were ordered to Kansas. They were mustered out at Fort Leavenworth on August 24, 1865 and returned to Pittsburgh, where the regiment disbanded.

Increase Shown In State Cases Of Whooping Cough

Disease Most Serious For Children Under Three Years Of Age

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 28.—The fact that last month showed an increase in the number of cases of whooping cough of more than 300% over the same month in 1930, in the state of Pennsylvania, attracts the attention of the State Department of Health to that malady. While whooping cough is rarely fatal to children over three years of age, no other communicable disease excepting only pneumonia, is charged with a greater loss of infant life.

It will be found that more than one-half of the total deaths from this disease are of infants under one year. Because of this fact, it is certainly wise to avoid, if possible, all exposure to infection in the younger children, for it must be stated that avoiding this exposure is the only possible means of controlling whooping cough.

No vaccine or serum has yet been discovered that can be definitely depended upon for protection, nor is there any specific curative agent generally appliable for it, after it has attacked its victim. Postponement of whooping cough until after the second birthday, if that were possible, would reduce the risk of death by 80%.

The younger children in the home should be protected from association with any child who manifests the symptoms of a cold or any type of respiratory ailment, since many of them may prove to be mild types of whooping cough, and from such contacts a serious and even deadly case may develop.

There seems to be no congenital immunity within the babe itself, which might protect it from this malady, during the first six months of its life, as there is with many other diseases. The absence of this natural immunity accounts in a large way for the high death rate among infants from whooping cough.

To avoid the peril of its life, keep your baby clear of the danger of whooping cough infection.

Boy, 13, Shoots Pal In Quarrel

Injured While At Play, Lad Seeks Revenge With Gun

YOUNGSTOWN, O. Dec. 28—The victim of childish revenge, Harry Beshare, 13 is near death in St. Elizabeth's Hospital tonight, while police are holding the 13 year old boy who fired a .22 caliber bullet into Beshare's heart late yesterday. Beshare, his assailant and two other lads were playing with a Spanish-American war rifle police were told, and Beshare, telling the other two to watch him "scare" the fourth boy fired the gun in his direction. The bullet glanced from the sidewalk, wounding the lad in the hand. The wounded boy ran away, detectives were told and borrowed a .22 rifle from a neighbor. He then came back and lay in wait for Beshare, it is said. When the youth come out of his house again the wounded lad drew a bead on him and shot him squarely in the heart.

SKULL IS FRACTURED IN AUTO CRASH

OIL CITY, Dec. 28—Injuries received in a head-on automobile collision on Sage Run road resulted in death eight hours later of Stanley Steer, 25, from a fractured skull in the Oil City hospital. His brother Raymond 20, driver of the car in which Stanley was riding, also is in the hospital with severe lacerations of the head and possible internal injuries.

The automobile crashed head-on with a car driven by Joseph Boyles, 22 of Laurel avenue, also under hospital care.

COW RIGHTS AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 28.—Like the English duke who was given the privilege of keeping his hat on in the presence of English kings Professor Charles Townsend Copeland, 82-year-old Professor Emiritus of rhetoric and oratory at Harvard, has been given the privilege—if he likes—to tether a cow in Harvard Yard. He received that right when he became Boylston professor. So 300 Harvard freshmen presented "Copey" with a porcelain model of a cow as a symbol of his rights.

New Rules Will Cover All Fatal Auto Accidents

Operators Involved May Appeal Suspension; Prompt Citation

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28—Two important rulings affecting motor vehicle operators who hereafter may be involved in fatal accidents were announced today by Secretary of Revenue Clyde L. King. One was the creation by Secretary King of a Board of Review to which persons whose operating privilege has been temporarily suspended because of a fatal accident may appeal the decision of the hearing inspector. In the other he fixed a maximum time limit in which operators so involved must appear for a hearing.

These rulings are part of the program formulated by the department to place the full burden of responsibility for fatal accidents on every reckless driver in the State, Secretary King said. He added that the maximum penalty for such accidents will be imposed where the testimony justifies such action.

The board of review will consist of Walter W. Matthews, Deputy Commissioner of Motor Vehicles; Sanford D. Beecher, legal assistant to the Secretary of Revenue, and a hearing inspector to be named by Matthews. In no case will this inspector be the one who held the first hearing.

When an appeal has been filed with the board, the person appealing will be notified of the place and date of the final hearing. The operator will be entitled to submit additional testimony to the board to show cause why the suspension should not stand. Should the board decide the suspension is to continue then an appeal to court, as provided by the vehicle code, may be made.

In case of an accident resulting in fatal injury, Secretary King has instructed the Safety Division that the operator or operators involved must be immediately cited for a hearing. The hearing must be held as promptly as possible, but in no case later than two weeks from the date information is received by the department of the fatal accident.

Hearing inspectors and State Highway patrolmen are required to investigate all fatal accidents and gather all information necessary for the subpoenaing of witnesses and all other information necessary for hearing purposes. The hearing inspector has the authority to recommend either temporary suspension of the operating privilege or the dismissal of the case in accordance with the testimony submitted and report of the coroner's inquest, if any.

Probe Schooley's Tax Affairs In Pittsburgh, Pa.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—The December grand jury today began its investigation of the affairs of former City Treasurer Roy D. Schooley, deposed by Mayor Charles H. Kline following a clamor by many civic organizations in the city.

Twelve witnesses were to testify before the jury today. Two of these were said to be ready to make a clean breast of practices in Schooley's office which were reported to have allowed refunds of tax penalties and delinquent tax interest to various politicians.

Jameson Nurses Go To Chicago

Six student nurses of the Jameson Memorial hospital left yesterday for Chicago, Ill., where they will enter the Cook County hospital for six months training. This training is necessary before the students can be graduated.

Those in Chicago are the Misses Marie Douglass of 935 Rose avenue, Elma Nelson of 1620 Phillips street, Tressa Stambaugh of Sharon, Erma Sontum of R. D. 2, New Castle, Grace Parker of R. D. 5, New Castle and Ethel Wagner of 612 North Cedar street.

PAYS TAXES WITH SUPPLY OF NUTS

Taxi-Battered Statesman

Following convalescence from the severe injuries he received when struck by a taxicab soon after his arrival in New York, Winston Churchill, famous British statesman, is shown as he left Lenox Hill Hospital still bearing evidence, in the form of surgical dressings, of his accident. The British diplomat is in the United States for a lecture tour.

Aged Guest At Grove City Home Leaps To Death

Body Of Resident At Wayside Inn Is Found By Attendants Late Last Night

GROVE CITY, Dec. 28.—Late last night officials of the Wayside Inn, home for aged Odd Fellows, found the bruised and broken body of Charles Bergner, aged 81, beneath a third floor porch of one of the dormitories. He is believed to have leaped to his death from the porch.

Mr. Bergner appeared to be in good health and the best of spirits. Shortly before the body was found Bergner had stated that he was going out for a smoke. He secured a chair and placed it against the railing, climbing up onto the railing, from whence he leaped to the ground beneath.

Coroner W. J. McGrath, who investigated, pronounced his death as suicide.

He is survived by one brother, Ernest, of Mercer.

Despondent Woman Ends Life With Gun

While Temporarily Unbalanced Mrs. Elizabeth O'Laughlin Shoots Herself

While mentally unbalanced, due to long illness, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Loughlin, 41, wife of Albert O'Laughlin, 401 Pearson street, shot herself through the head with a 32 calibre revolver, about 11 o'clock this morning.

Mr. O'Laughlin, who was in the basement of the house, heard the shot, and rushing upstairs, found his wife lying on the floor near her bed. He immediately called a doctor but life was extinct when he arrived.

Mrs. O'Laughlin has been an invalid for several years. She was suffering from heart disease and other trouble. She was in a hospital some time ago, but of late has been at home. She was confined to her bed, the most of the time, and worried greatly over her condition.

There is no question but that worry over her condition affected her mind, and that she was not responsible for her act. She is survived by her husband. She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Thomas Lynch and John Young of the police department and Coroner J. P. Caldwell were called on the case.

Neshannock Wall Is Nearly Done

Other Projects Will Be Outlined For Unemployed Aided By Mayor's Committee

With only a few feet remaining to be completed, the wall along the Neshannock creek bank between the North street bridge and the city tool house, will be completed this week.

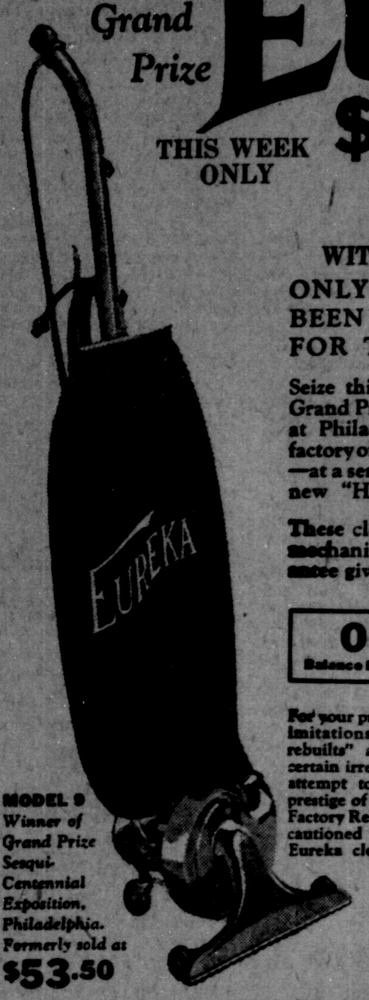

It will be necessary for the employment committee of the mayor's relief committee to find other work to do, after this project is finished. There has been some talk of continuing the work along the creek bank above the North street bridge, and a conference will be held with members of council an this proposition shortly.

In addition to erecting the wall along the bank of the creek, many of the men receiving assistance from the mayor's committee have worked cleaning up Gaston Park, and building a walk through the park.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of Schools and a delegation consisting of Miss Mary Ramsey of Terrace avenue school, Miss Jane Kyle, of Mahoning school and Miss Georgianna McNees of Thaddeus Stevens school, will represent the New Castle branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association at the Association's annual convention in session at the present time.

The convention will last through Wednesday and the meeting places will be at the administration building, Memorial hall, Schenley high school, Carnegie Tech buildings. The meetings are open to the public.

The general themes are: "Education For Citizenship" and "Improving the Rural Schools." Speakers include Dr. Willis A. Sutton, former president of the P. S. E. A.; President Ralph D. Hetzel of State College; John G. Bowman, of Pittsburgh; President Thomas S. Gates of the University of Pennsylvania; Attorney A. Leo Weil, of Pittsburgh; Joseph N. Ruel, of Harrisburg; and Dr. Thomas Alexander, of Columbia University.

Officers of the local branch are: Albert Dodds, president; Sara Rice, secretary, and J. C. Wood, treasurer.

Spanish War Vets Elect Officers

Plan Extensive Program For The Coming Year, At Saturday Meeting

Officers to have charge of the affairs of Colonel Daniel Leasure camp No. 24, United Spanish War Veterans, will be elected at the meeting of the organization held Saturday evening in the Legion Home.

William F. Dickson was elected as the commander for the coming year. Other officers elected are: Senior vice commander, M. L. McMillen; junior vice commander, J. S. Lane; officer of the day, R. H. Huffman; officer of the guard, Hillman T. Otto; representative on the board of the Legion Home, Homer C. Drake; trustee, Dr. C. C. Green.

The newly elected officers will be installed at the next regular meeting of the organization to be held in January.

Plans for the ensuing year were made at the meeting. It is the plan of the camp to carry on in an even more extensive manner than in years past. Among the important matters to be carried out are those with regard to the Americanization school at the Lincoln and Garfield school, which the organization has sponsored for several years.

NOTICE!

"Hey, Mr. and Mrs. Theatre-goer! You just can't keep from loving these kids—Jackie Cooper, Robert Coogan, and Jackie Searl. Their dads and mothers, their playmates are in the cast of "SOOKEY"—a lilting, laughing classic of the most priceless era in life—your kid days!

It is playing at the Penn all This Week. C'mon down tonight. Bring the family and be a kid again! All kids from 6 to 60 will love "SOOKEY" and they'll tell the world so after they've seen it!"

JUDGMENT GRANTED IN MORTGAGE CASE

Motion for judgement was granted by Judge Hildebrand at court this morning in the case of Daniel W. Wehman against Clyde Houk, administrator of John H. Galvin, with notice to Verna M. Houk and others. The claim is based on a mortgage for $1500.

CLAIMS NO NOTICE RECEIVED OF SUIT

In the case of Martha D. Trimble against the Mennel Milling Company, a petition was presented at court this morning, to set aside service, and let the defendant in to a defense. It is claimed by the defendant, whose place of business is in Toledo, Ohio, that no notice of the suit having been filed was received. Records show that the case was certified by Sheriff Johnston to the Dauphin county sheriff, and that he mailed notice to the defendant company as required by law. However it is claimed by the defendant that the notice was never received. A rule returnable on January 11, was granted.

BLAZE DESTROYS GARAGE AND CAR

GROVE CITY, Dec. 28.—Fire, which is believed to have originated from a short circuit, destroyed the garage and car owned by A. L. and G. W. Patterson of Main street, early this morning. Some valuable tools were stored in the garage, which were also damaged. The loss is estimated at $500.

LOCAL GIRLS AT CONVENTION

Miss Lillian Fishkin of Phillips street, Miss Ina Rosenberg of East Reynolds street and Miss Ellen Shifman of Wallace avenue have left for New York City where they are attending the National Junior Hadassah convention. They will return in a few days.

Congress Plans To Consider Modifying Of Anti-Trust Law

Business Men Make Plea For Modification Of Sherman Act

Amendment Would Facilitate Mergers—Seek Independent Business

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Congressional consideration of the plea of business for modification of the Sherman Anti-Trust law was assured today by Rep. Sumners (D) of Texas, chairman of the house judiciary committee.

The committee may go further, and order a sweeping investigation into mergers, chain stores and other vast economic changes of the post-war era.

Consider Probe.

The inquiry, if ordered, would rival the "money trust" investigation, and probably would extend over a period of three months.

Disclosing that a broad investigation of business is under consideration by congressional leaders, chairman Sumners said:

"Suggestions have come to the committee with regard to proposals to amend the anti-trust law with particularly reference to its administration. I am certain the committee will give consideration to the suggestions, and it is not improbable it will lead to an examination of the economic system."

Congress has before it a recommendation from President Hoover for a survey of the anti-trust laws, though without definite proposals for changes.

Amendment Urged.

Business leaders have urged amendment to facilitate mergers, permit business to receive a decision in advance of a combination as to its legality, and legalize great organizations to handle imports of raw materials.

Rep. Tinkham (R) of Massachusetts has introduced a bill providing that industrial firms considering mergers could obtain a decision in advance from the federal trade commission on the question of whether the combination would be in restraint of trade.

Chairman Sumners and the Democratic leadership of the house are known to oppose a continuance of industrial concentration.

Any legislation approved in the present session, it is believed, is likely to tighten the Sherman and Clayton acts and seek a way to promote independent competitive business.

Two In Columbiana Identify Holdup Pair

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Dec. 28.—John Bromby and Chester Reed told police today that J. L. Keenan, 21, of Youngstown, O., and Austin Cullinan, 22, also of Youngstown, who was killed by a freak bullet wound received in the attempted holdup of the Morris Wolf shoe store in Pittsburgh, were the two men who robbed the Pennzoil Co.'s filling station in the downtown business district here Christmas morning.

Police said Cullinan was killed when Keenan struck Wolf with his revolver. The gun discharged and the bullet, grazing Wolf's skull, was deflected to Cullinan's head.

Bromby and Reed, attendants at the filling station, identified Keenan and the body of Cullinan at Pittsburgh late yesterday. They were robbed of $47 and then forced into a rear room of the station at 4:45 a. m. on Christmas Day, three hours before the attempted holdup in Pittsburgh.

The men who staged the holdup here, traveling in a sedan which police said was stolen in Youngstown, fled across the Ohio River to Chester, W. Va., thence presumably along the Lincoln Highway to Pittsburgh.

Three Buildings In Bridgeville Damaged By Fire

Mysterious Explosion Starts Fire That Destroys Three Buildings

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—A mysterious explosion which may have been caused by a bomb today resulted in fire which destroyed three buildings in Bridgeville, near here, and shattered the windows in scores of homes and stores.

The entire community was aroused by the sudden blast. The three-story frame restaurant and home of Fred Campanelli, the adjoining three-story frame house of James Sasso and the small house of Mr. and Mrs. John Donlan were razed by fire.

Donlan and his wife escaped injury as they fled to the street. The other two houses were empty. Bridgeville police said. An investigation was opened to determine cause of the blast.

Monessen Steel Workers Called Back To Posts

Report 200 Monessen Steel Workers Will Be Called Back To Work Next Monday

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—Two hundred men will return to work next Monday at the Monessen plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Company, officials said today, when the open hearth furnaces will be reopened after a two-week shutdown.

Reopening of the open hearth section, company officials said, was ordered to handle steel for a 500-ton order of tubing to be rolled at the Allentown plant.

B'Nai B'Rith's New Officers Are Named

New officers of Lodge 609, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, were elected at a meeting in Temple Israel last night. Dr. M. Davis was elected president, succeeding Abe Levine. Other officers elected are Attorney Harry Frank, vice president; N. J. Love, secretary; Jack Gerson, treasurer; Louis Sandler, trustee; Emanuel Shenken, assistant monitor; Harry Levine, warden. The lodge voted to hold future meetings in the Leslie hotel.

Black Bear Leaves Own "Calling Card"

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—A black bear climbed the Blue Knob forest fire lookout station, located in northern Bedford county, recently, and left his calling card in the form of numerous claw scratches on the wooden steps and door of the glass-enclosed cabin on the top. This is one of the very few instances of bears venturing to ascend any of the sixty-foot steel towers located throughout Pennsylvania.

District Forester Henry B. Phillips in charge of the Buchanan state forest district, with headquarters at McConnellsburg, reports that black bear are increasing in Bedford and Fulton counties. For the first time within the present generation bears have been killed for two successive years on Sideling Hill in the latter county.

A 200-pound bruin shot last year by Forest Ranger Carl Hann was the first to be killed on Sideling Hill in 28 years and the only one legally shot in Fulton county in 18 years. Five good sized bears were taken in the Buchanan forest district during the past hunting season.

The increase in bear population in the Tuscarora mountains is attributed by Phillips to the co-operative efforts of the inhabitants of that region with the State Department of Forests and Waters to keep fires out of the woods and the preservation of breeding sanctuaries in the state forests and the state game refuges.

Three Children Die From Burns

Stove Explosion Occurs At Home In North Lima Ohio

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 28—Three small children are dead and their mother and father are seriously burned as the result of a gasoline stove explosion in the home of Harry Brightbill, near North Lima, about thirteen miles south of here Saturday night.

The explosion occurred as Mrs. Brightbill was pumping air into the tank of a gasoline heater. The tank burst, spattering flaming gasoline over the woman and her three children, Eleanora 7, Mildred 5 and Elizabeth 2½.

In a moment the kitchen was a mas of flames. Brightbill ran in and carried out the victims of the explosion. In doing so he was burned severely on the hands and face.

The mother of the children, needless of the fact that her own clothing was afire, batled frantically to extinguish the flames enveloping her little ones and she also was seriously burned.

Mrs. Brightbill and the three children were brought to the South Side Unit of Youngstown hospital here.

Mildred was the first to die, Eleanora and Elizabeth died Sunday morning, several hours after Mildred's death.

Hospital attendants held out that hope for the recovery of the mother.

The Brightbill home was razed by the flames.

The father succeeded in carrying two of his five children to safety out of his flaming home. They were uninjured.

North Lima firemen were called but the fire had gained such headway and so little water was available that they were unable to bring the blaze under control.

The injured mother and children were taken to the Youngstown Hospital by an ambulance which went to the scene from Columbiana, a village just over the Mahoning line in the adjoining county of Columbiana.

State Spends Much On Private Schools

By ARTHUR C. WIREN
Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28.—Pennsylvania ranked third of the forty-eight states in the expenditures of private colleges and universities last year. H. G. Badger, statistician of the Federal Office of Education, reports.

During 1930, private colleges and universities of the Keystone State spent $39,800,000, according to Mr. Badger's calculations. Only two states—New York and Massachusetts—led Pennsylvania in this respect.

This data became available through the first relatively complete survey of expenditures by public and private schools ever made by the Office of Education.

Watch Night Service Planned

Arrangements have been completed by the committee in charge, for the union "Watch Night" service in the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church, South Mill street, with six churches of the city taking part.

The leaders will be Rev. C. F. Whetsell of the Church of the Nazarene; Rev. F. Parks of the Dewey avenue Free Methodist church, and Mrs. E. C. Anderson of the Gospel Tabernacle.

There will be special musical numbers and the program will begin at 9 o'clock.

The service is open to the public.

Legal Limit For Using 1931 Tags Ends December 31

This Years Tags Worthless After First Of Year

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—Pennsylvania motor vehicle owners were reminded today by Benjamin G. Eynon, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles that they have just about one week left in which to secure 1932 license plates if they hope to operate their cars on January 1. This year tags are worthless after December 31, he said and their use is a violation of the law.

For the benefit of the thousands of motor vehicle owners who have not yet forwarded their renewal applications to the Department of Revenue at Harrisburg Commissioner Eynon makes the following suggestions:

"If the renewal application thft was mailed to you last October has been mislaid, write to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Department of Revenue, immediately giving the make of your car, motor, serial and title numbers. That information can be found on your present registration card. Do this, and a renewal appliciation will be mailed promptly.

"If the address shown on the application which was sent you is incorrect be sure to correct it on the large portion of the card which you sign. Do this before you return it. If you fail to do it, your license plates will go to the wrong address.

"If you own a commercial motor vehicle, the department calls your attention to the two questions on the 1932 renewal applications, namely—How many axles. If these two questions are not answered correctly the department will have to return the application. That means delay in receiving tags. Instructions concerning these questions will be found on the reverse side of the application.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

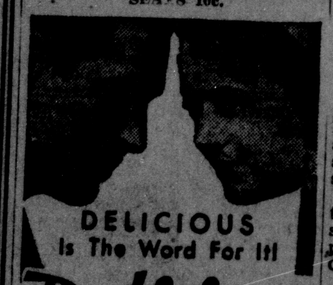

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

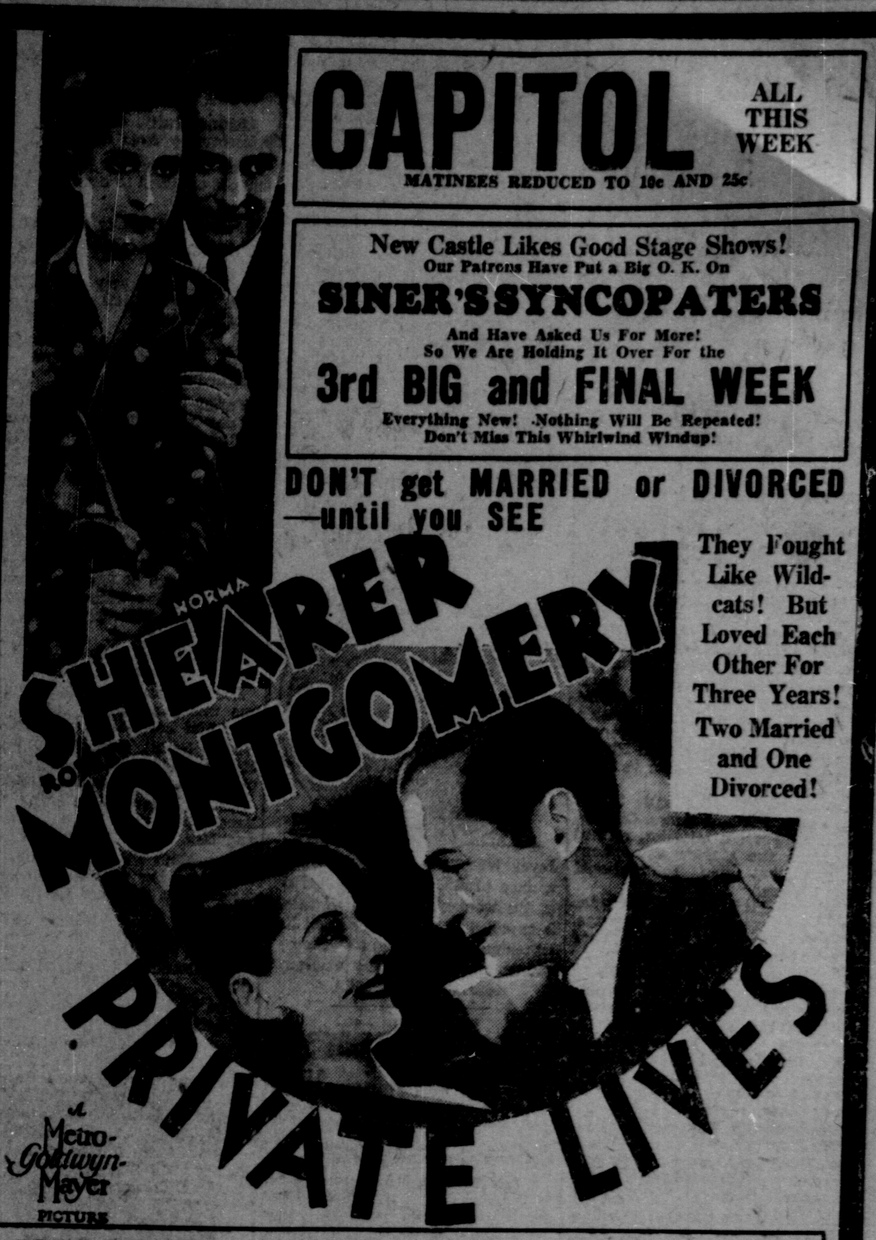

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Soviet Charges Are Denied By Dr. Carl Vanek

Czecho-Slovakian Diplomat Enroute Back To Prague From Moscow Today

HIROTA IS GOOD FRIEND, SAYS VANEK

Brands As Ridiculous Charges That He Would Plot Death Of Ambassador

(International News Service)

WARSAW, Dec. 28.—Dr. Carl Vanek, Czecho-Slovakian diplomat, who was virtually expelled from Russia, today indignantly denied Soviet charges that he had plotted the assassination of the Japenese Ambassador at Moscow, Koki Hirota, in order to bring about war between Russia and Japan.

Vanek, enroute to Prague to report to Dr. Edouard Benes, Czecho-Slovakian Foreign Minister, refused to discuss the Moscow accusations in detail, but told International News Service:

"Before I left Moscow Ambassador Hirota sent me a farewell message, conveying his best wishes. They weren't sarcastic wishes either for Hirota is an old, personal friend of mine whom I respect and admire. The idea that I should have arranged to have him shot is ridiculous."

A chance remark he had dropped in fun, Vanek said, had been grossly exaggerated and misconstrued.

Ballentine To Be Tried Here

Deputy Sheriffs Go For Man Wanted For Robberies Here In 1926

Deputy Sheriffs William Reynolds and Russell McBride left this morning for the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for Joe Ballentine, who is wanted here on several robbery charges.

After the robberies were committed here Ballentine was arrested on other charges outside this state and sent to the Federal prison. His term expires this week. The Federal authorities, knowing of the charges here, notified Sheriff Frank Johnson to come for the prisoner.

Ballentine was indicted in February, 1926, for robberies committed at the Armour and Company Packing Plant, the Cudahy Packing Plant, the Central Laundry, and for holding up and robbing Wilber Mackey, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad agent.

Two others were accomplices in at least one of the robberies. Ballentine was indicted by a local grand jury on all of the charges. He will be brought back here for trial.

Proposed Pensions Get Negative Vote

Council Practically Wipes Out All Matters Referred To Committee

After council met today in city hall and had transacted all business which required immediate attention the solons met in committee and virtually cleaned out the committee of the whole to which various matters had been referred. Most of them had been acted upon and little remained for solons to do, other than to report some back to council with a negative recommendation or order the matters filed.

The most important action taken was relative to approximately five proposed ordinances which would, if passed upon finally, provide pensions for police and firemen. Every member excepting Mayor Gillespie of the present administration had at one time or another submitted a bill for pensions. All were reported back to council negatively and what may be done in the future must be done by the incoming officials.

Fuller & McClintock's report, covering the sewer survey and recommendations and the report of Morris Knowles & Company covering the traffic survey and recommendations, were ordered filed. They will not be spread upon the minutes of council but will be kept safe and ready for use should council decide to make use of the reports.

The matters referred to the committee and which were referred to the incoming council follow:

Request of fire authorities that a fire alarm box be situated at the intersection of Hazel street and Huron avenue.

Amendment to the General Improvement ordinance which regulates grading, paving and construction of sewers.

Proposed ordinance which fixes and changes lines of Butler avenue extension between East Washington street and Cunningham avenue.

The Parent Problem
by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

How Both Child, And Adult Steal Sayings Of Others Unaware Of Plagiarism

Psychologist's Study Of Youngsters' Stories Reveals Phrases From Books That Had Been Read To Them

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Children, like adults, often are plagiarists unawares. Like adults, they write and say what others have said and written, in exactly the same words, without acknowledging the fact that they are quoting.

Those parents who have read a great deal to their young children often must have observed the fanciful yarns of these young creators, phrases, sentences, and even whole paragraphs which had appeared verbatim in stories which they frequently had heard.

Of this phenomena I made a careful study with my own children, reporting some data in my book, "The Learner and His Attitude," in 1925. Their mother and I kept a record of all we read to them—when each story was read and each time it was repeated.

Then during the period of their childhood from two to five we also took down verbatim hundreds of their yarns which each child called "My stories."

Not only did they not refer to the original stories when telling their own yarns, but when asked if they did not get a certain creation from such and such a story they objected vigorously with, "No; my story!" This in spite of the fact that they not infrequently combined in one of their stories entire phrases and sentences from one or several stories which often had been read to them. Sometimes it was a paraphrase of one, or several other stories put together.

Once we recognized their annoyance at our challenge, and the certainty they felt about their own oroginality, we ceased to say a word about the matter, but to encourage them to go on creating.

* * *

As many of my readers know, Edgar Allan Poe once carried on a long and vigorous attack upon Longfellow, charging that Longfellow had reproduced in a number of his short poems the context, or verse pattern, or whole lines, or whole stanzas from the words of obscure poets. Poe made a most convincing case by printing side by side the less known, but earlier, poems, and certain one's of Longfellow.

Poe finally wrote that although he had proved his charges they cast no aspersions upon the moral integrity of Longfellow but rather that they bespoke his genius, concluding that the greater the poet the more disposed he would be to plagiarize without knowing he was doing so.

Some while after Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad" had been published, he was asked by a friend of his how he "came to steal Oliver Wendell Holmes' dedication and put it in his book." When by going into a book store immediately, Mark Twain discovers that he had been correctly accused he was amazed. "I was much ashamed and unspeakably astonished."

He later discovered the explanation, namely, that six years before he had read over and over the volume of poems by Holmes and had greatly admired them. "In a word, I read the book to rags, and was infiitely grateful to the hand that wrote it." Obviously he had read the dedication and admired it, too. It had become a treasure of his memory, a veritable part of himself; so that years later, when he dedicated his own book, he quoted Holmes' dedication without knowing he was quoting.

We like the humble apology Mark Twain wrote at once to Oliver Wendell Holmes, and we must be delighted with Holmes' magnanimous forgiveness in reply. Holmes did more than forgive: he assured Mark Twain that the incident might easily have happened to any one, however innocent and conscientious.

May Have Both City And County Sealers Next Year

Mayor-Elect Mayne Says City Is Entitled To Appointment Of Official

Mayor-elect Charles Mayne indicated in no uncertain manner that the city should have a voice in naming the sealer of weights and measures and if the city doesn't, has $1,200 which will be paid to a sealer who will work for the city.

It was reported that indirectly word has reached officials-elect that unless the city "went along with the county" that "the county-city agreement would be broken."

"How about Mr. W. A. Brown?" asked Councilman Genkinger.

"He had it 12 or 14 years. He was named for political purposes. He is not a resident of New Castle. This city pays 82½ per cent of his salary and the county 17½ per cent. We pay all the city taxes and about 65 per cent of the county taxes. The city furnishes the office room and the county pays the expenses," said Mr. Mayne.

"I heard a relative of Mr. Conners was going to get the job," said Mr. Genkinger.

"Not with the permission of the city. It will cost the city $5,000 to handle that job and there'll be an awful yell," said Mayne.

"Job Racketeer" Held In Clarion

W. C. Lanning, Former Pittsburgh Man, Held For Offering Of Fake Jobs

(International News Service)

CLARION, Pa., Dec. 28—W. C. Lanning, former Pittsburgher, who allegedly worked a "job" racket here collecting cash bonds from the unemployed without providing employment, was under arrest today.

According to police, Lanning, representing himself as an engineer, and announcing he was building a plant to extract gasoline from coal, offered employment to residents of Imperial and Clinton. He collected cash bonds ranging from $2 to $50 and then failed to provide work, it is charged.

Lanning, constables alleged, also operated in Emlenton and Foxburg, in Clarion county. Here he promised to erect a steel mill.

LUMBER PRODUCTION

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Can.—Complete statistics for the production of lumber, lath, and shingles for 1929 which have just been issued, show a total production for that year of 4,741,941,000 feet board measure. This figure falls only a little short of the record cut of 4,918,202,000 feet board measure in 1911, since the collection of official annual statistics regarding the lumber industry was begun in 1908.

No Extra Men In Fire Departments

City Council Cuts Appropriation For Extras During Vacations

City firemen and police will be allowed vacations but unlike in the past no extra men will be employed to fill the places of vacationing firemen. Police covered each other's jobs during vacations, according to councilmanic discussion, Saturday.

There had been $2,194 appropriated for the extra firemen in 1931. The sum was sheared from the fire department appropriation Saturday.

It developed that Mayor-elect Mayne doesn't believe they should draw pay when they are ill, but under a present ordinance they can draw pay, less compensation, for the first 30 days.

"Why extra men? If they get sick why should they draw salary?" Mayor-elect Mayne asked.

"The appropriation is for extra men during vacation," said Councilman-elect Davies. The amount was given as $2,194.

"I am opposed to paying any man who is off duty ill. New Castle city is not a benevolent institution" remarked Mayne.

He thought the appropriation should come out. It was later removed from the appropriation.

Keep Check On Children Given Free Milk Supply

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—By direction of Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, a careful check has been kept on the children who have been securing free milk at the stations established in Avella, Bernice, Coverdale, Renton and Kinloch. A report made to Dr. Appel this week shows that 95% of all undernourished children have shown a definite gain in weight, 3% remain the same, while 2% show loss, on account of illness.

It is planned to not only continue the free distribution at these points, but it has been announced that an additional station will be opened at Primrose, in Schuylkill county, where a survey shows that there are more than 500 school children under weight. No survey of those not old enough to enter school has been made, but it is estimated that a large number would also show lack of proper nutrition.

Primrose will be added to the free station list, a room in the school building having been offered by the county superintendent of schools, as soon as details can be worked out. All the milk at these stations will continue to be paid for out of funds contributed for that purpose.

RIVERS SURVEY READY BY JAN. 1

U. S. Engineer Promises Early Report On The Project

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 28.—Major General Lytle Brown, in charge of the river and harbor surveys of the United States army engineers, has informed Congressman Thomas C. Cochran of Mercer that the field report on the recent survey of the Beaver, Shenango and Mahoning rivers will be ready about January 1.

The engineers' decision on the proposed slackwatering of the three streams is eagerly awaited by residents of the Beaver-Mahoning-Shenango district, as the hope of securing a federal appropriation for the project depends on their approval. It is expected, from information already given out, that the report will be favorable and that, as soon as possible, an appropriation for canalization will be made. The survey, completed early in the fall, includes the Shenango river from New Castle to Greenville, through West Middlesex, Wheatland, Farrell, Sharon, Sharpsville, Clarksville and smaller otwns.

WHY RISK DOPE?

Stop Your Child's Cough Safely!

"Oscar came home with a full grown cough and cold. I put him to bed right away. Right away I gave him Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup. It eased the cough, soothed his throat, and he fell asleep. In the morning he woke up as full of health as ever." F. J. Ryan, 1366 E. 92 St., Cleveland, O.

CHEMICAL analysis reveals that many cough syrups actually contain DOPE . . . (Dope—that means morphine, opium, narcotics, ether, chloroform.)

But—mothers—you don't need to take chances with these DOPE cough syrups. Smith Brothers have developed a new type of syrup—efficient—fast-working—but WITHOUT DOPE. You can give Smith Brothers' Triple Action Cough Syrup even to a delicate child—without fear. It is safe. Remember this about it—SAFE! It can't harm little stomachs.

And its "Triple Action" works so surely that even stubborn coughs, or those dangerous "hanging-on" coughs, disappear quickly . . . Children actually like the taste. Only 35c.

Charges Pinchot "Passed Word" To Defeat Gas Tax

John Boylan, President of District Mine Workers, Attacks Governor

PLAYING TOO MUCH POLITICS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—The startling charge that Gov. Gifford Pinchot "passed the word" to the lower house of the State Legislature to defeat, on third reading, the administration's one-cent gasoline tax measure was made here today by John Boylan, president of district No. 1, United Mine Workers of America.

Both the governor and the legislature as a whole have been "playing politics with a lot of hungry men," Boylan told a meeting of the State Federation of Labor.

Boylan advocated resubmission of the gasoline tax bill to the legislature with a view to enactment of the measure and also revision and resubmission of the proposed cigarette tax.

Tossed In Discard

Both exercise measures were tossed into the discard by house and senate in enacting the Talbot Bill, appropriating $10,000,000 to the State Poor Board districts.

Shortly after Boylan's address, the executive board of the federation sent word to the executive department that an appointment with the governor to discuss proposed additional unemployment relief measures would be appreciated.

No word had come from the governor's office shortly before noon, but it was believed the request would be granted and the labor leaders would meet with the executive this afternoon.

School Tuition Is To Be Paid

Neshannock Township School Directors Take Action At Meeting Saturday

At a meeting of the Neshannock township school board Saturday evening a resolution was passed to settle the claims of the city of New Castle school district for tuition, according to word received by County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling today.

Neshannock township has been back in tuition charges since 1925, and suits to collect it have been filed in the Lawrence county court. At the opening of schools in this city last fall, the school district refused to accept high school pupils from Neshannock township, unless they stood good for their own tuition.

The Neshannock township board will not only pay the back tuition due the city of New Castle district, but hereafter will pay the tuition of Neshannock township pupils monthly.

The board also decided to send its attorney to Harirsburg to arrange for a settlement of $22,000 which was borrowed from the state retirement fund. Some of the bonds are now past due.

Pennsy Freight Car, Merchandise Burned

Railroad Police Investigate Blaze Which Brought $200 Loss In South Side

Pennsylvania railroad police today launched an investigation to learn the cause of a fire which brought a loss of $200 yesterday evening when flames attacked a merchandise car in the railroad yards south of Mahoning avenue.

W. O. Teufel, master mechanic, was called to the fire, but was not able to tell the total amount of the loss. Railroad officials today said they thought someone had robbed the steel merchandise car and then either wilfully or accidentally set fire to it while it was standing near Mahoning avenue. The car had been loaded in the city and was to have been sent to points in this district. The seal on the door had been broken and entrance made, railroad men said.

Central and fifth ward firemen arrived in response to a telephone call at 6:45 p. m. Sunday and had the blaze under control in about an hour. A line of hose was extended from a hydrant in the refractory plant nearby.

Released To Help His Needy Family

Frank Porada Is Granted A Parole From The Allegheny County Workhouse

Frank Porada, who has served about six months of an eighteen months sentence to the workhouse for manufacturing liquor, was paroled by Judge R. L. Hildebrand this morning, on a petition presented by Mrs. Porada.

In her petition Mrs. Porada stated that she has six children and is in destitute circumstances. She stated that her husband has been a coal miner for 20 years, and that if released, he can get a job at Leesburg mines, and earn enough to support his family.

Friends, she said would raise the money to pay his fine and costs.

Old Man River Out of Bounds

They say music has wonderful soothing powers, but despite all the lovely songs that have been written and sung all over the world about the Mississippi, it refuses to behave. Here is what was once the main highway and bridge leading into Glendora, Miss., now turned into a huge lake as the result of Old Man River going on the rampage and bursting through the levee. Not only the big river but its minor tributaries are acting up this season. Thousands of acres of farm land are under water and many towns are flooded, rendering hundreds of families homeless.

Boak Is Speaker At Rotary Club Meeting At Noon

Treating agriculture from the viewpoint of one actively engaged in the work, termed by the speaker as "one of the country's greatest industries," J. Audley Boak, past acting master of the Pennsylvania state grange, spoke today at the Rotary club's luncheon meeting.

He discussed the rural man's problems and also road matters, taxes and other relating subjects in a most interesting way. All phases of farming were touched.

Mr. Boak, a senior member of the farming firm of J. A. Boak & Sons, Slippery Rock township, said that American agriculture represented an investment of 75 billion dollars and that in Lawrence county alone there are 19 million dollars invested in it.

Present to hear Mr. Boak were C. S. MacCalla, vice president of the Ohio-Edison company, power concern, and William King, electrical superintendent of the company, of Youngstown, and Bert Wells and son Lewis of this city.

Radio Musicians Planning Strike

Report 400 Radio Musicians In Chicago Plan Strike At Midnight Thursday

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Just as the new year rolls in at midnight Thursday, 400 radio musicians here will walk out on strike unless their demands are met by the broadcasting companies, it was announced today.

The strike was called by James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians.

Petrollo announced the strike will not materialize if the broadcasters compromise by granting at least one of the two demands before New Year's day. The demands are: (1) that union musicians be placed on a six-day week at seven-day a week salaries, or (2) that union musicians replace technicians at control boards on monitor programs.

Spread of the Chicago strike to national scope might follow, Petrillo stated, if the broadcasting companies tried to bring in outside talent. This followed a conference with Joseph Weber of New York, president of the National Federation of Musicians, he reported.

Post Office Calm As Holiday Passes

Mail Handlers Find Lighter Loads This Morning; Extras End Duty

Where a hustle and bustle existed almost every day last week but Christmas, a contrasting calm and quiet held sway today in the lobby of the city's post office. Once again a holiday's abnormally heavy rush was over.

Postmaster Edwin Crawford and employes were satisfied that service was furnished in a most expeditious manner this year. Left-over mail was being delivered to destinations today. The usual New Year's mail was beginning to pour in.

All of the office's extra help was dismissed from further duty on Saturday.

Next Meeting Of Solons Saturday

Will Be Next To Last Meeting For Present City Rulers

Council met today in city hall and decided to hold their next meeting January 2, which will be Saturday.

Generally the Monday meetings are adjourned until Friday but Councilman Reeves cannot be present Friday, council was told.

While the adjourned meeting will be January 2, the business will be conducted 'as of December 31" according to Councilman Burns.

The present administration will convene January 4, when the new officials will be sworn into office.

Mayor-elect Charles Mayne and Councilmen-elect Davies and Hoyland will be inducted into office.

Mayne will succeed Mayor W. H. Gillespie and Councilmen-elect Davies and Hoyland will succeed Councilmen Reeves and Burns.

As yet neither Mayor Gillespie, Councilman Reeves or Burns have stated their future plans.

Third Church Hears Solicitor

The atendance at the Third United Presbyterian Sunday school on Sunday was 710 and the adult classes and young people were addressed by City Solicitor Robert M. White and his talk was enthusiastically received.

This evening the Bible school and friends will assemble for the annual Christmas program, at which time the pageant "Lasting Glory" will be presented under the direction of W. H. Schoenfield.

The annual treat to the children will be presented at the close of this program.

Personal Mention

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Sloan, 107 East Garfield avenue, were Pittsburgh visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kerber, of Aliquippa, visited friends in Sharon on Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Mitchell, of Highland avenue, have returned home after spending Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell of Youngstown.

Fraces Mrozeck of the University of Pittsburgh is spending the mid-year at his home on the Mt. Jackson road.

Young Man Grabs Woman's Pocketbook

Robbery Occurs At Whippo And County Line Streets Saturday Evening

Mrs. Harold Ashton, 208 South Ray street, was the victim of a snatching type of thief on Saturday evening about 8:30 o'clock at the corner of Whippo and County Line streets.

The young man, apparently about 20 years of age and wearing a red sweater and soft brown hat, snatched her pocketbook from her and then ran away, joining another young man, apparently his pal as he ran away. The pocketbook contained $2.10 in cash.

DRAIN GASOLINE INTO STREET AND MAKE BIG BLAZE

Shortly before ten o'clock Saturday evening, Motorcycle Officer Ray Richards arrested two youths, John Cook and Joe Rodgers, whom he found had drained the gasoline from the hose of the private pump of Gilfillan's Lumber Company at Wilmington and Moody avenues, into the gutter and then set it on fire causing a considerable blaze and within a few feet of piles of lumber of the Gilfillan company. They were given a hearing before Mayor W. H. Gillespie and fined $5 each, which was suspended and they were paroled.

Wesley Church Has Program

Christmas Program Of Music And Readings Is Presented At Sunday Evening Service

The auditorium of the Wesley Methodist church, of which Rev. George Nolder is pastor, was filled Sunday evening for the Christmas service, which was well presented.

The program opened with the singing of "Shepherds Shake Off Your Drowsy Sleep" and "Shout the Glad Tidings"; followed by a duet, "His Lowly Birthplace" by Mrs. Weyrie and Mrs. Davies; after which the congregation sang "O Come All Ye Faithful".

A double quartet, Mrs. Weyrie, Mrs. Selick, Freida Fabian, Dee Rech, Mrs. Davis, Pearl Matthews, Bill Rech and Henry Grittie, sang "Arise Shine" and Mrs. Britten gave a reading, which was followed by the offering.

Harriat Rodgers gave a pleasing piano number and the congregation sang "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks"; a ladies' chorus sang "Away in a Manger" and a men's chorus sang "The First Noel". "Silent Night" closed the musical part of the program, with Jack Grittie as the leader.

Plan To Return Woman Suspect In Kidnaping Gang

Mrs. Ethel Depew, Woman Member Of Missouri Kidnap Gang To Be Taken Back

QUESTION WOMAN ABOUT PLOTTINGS

(International News Service)

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Ethel Depew, wanted in Kansas City in connection with the kidnaping of Mrs. Nell Donnelly, wealthy apron manufacturer, was to be taken to that city today, accompanied by a police matron and several detectives.

Questioning of Mrs. Depew, detectives said, so far has failed to produce any tangible results.

Planned Kidnaping

That other prominent Kansas City residents were slated for abduction was learned when Mrs. Depew, wife of the alleged ring leader of the kidnaping gang, told Kansas City detectives here she had been employed as a trained nurse in the home of Albert Jones, oil magnate.

In the alleged confession of Lacy Browning, member of the gang, he also told the authorities Jones was one of several Kansas City residents the gang considered kidnaping before Mrs. Donnelly was abducted.

13,567 Serve On School Boards

Large Number Of Citizens Looking After Educational Needs

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28—There are 13,567 members of boards of school directors in Pennsylvania, according to figures just announced by Doctor James N. Rule, superintendent of Public Instruction. These men and women are elected by the people in all districts but those of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia where appointment is made by the judges of the courts of common pleas.

In schools districts of the first class or the cities of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, 15 directors are appointed for each district making a total of 30 members. In the school districts of the second class consisting of 20 cities the size of Altoona, Harrisburg and Scranton 9 members from each district are elected or a total of 180 representatives. School districts of the third class such as Carlisle, Lock Haven and Rochester where 7 members are elected for each of the 266 districts a total of 1862 serve while in the fourth class made up of 2299 boroughs and townships under 5000 in population, five directors are elected in each district or a total of 11,495 thus making a grand total of 13,567 school directors in the 2587 school districts in Pennsylvania.

These directors are chosen at large in their respective districts, serve without pay unless holding the position of secretary or treasurer, and hold office for a term of six years. In school districts of the first class, the term of office begins that second Monday of November following their appointment. In all other districts the term begins on the first Monday of December following their election. Directors may succeed themselves and it is not uncommon for incumbents to remain in continuous service for as much as twenty to twenty five years.

Boards of school directors in every school district in Pennsylvania are responsible for establishing equipping, and maintaining a sufficient number of elementary schools in compliance with the law for all boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 21 years who may attend, and in addition may establish equip, furnish and maintain high schools, vocational schools, evening schools, kindergartens, libraries, museums, gymnasiums, playgrounds, schools for the deaf, blind and mentally deficient truant schools, schools for adults, public lectures and such other schools as they may see fit to establish. In the early days of the public schools directors examined and certificated teachers in addition to their other duties. This was later delegated to the superintendents of schools and for some years now has been under the immediate direction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Arrange More Speed On Coast-To-Coast Air Mail Service

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—Coast-to-Coast air mail will be delivered in New York and Los Angeles a full business day faster than at present, effective Jan. 1.

From that date Richard W. Robbins, president of Transcontinental & Western Air, said today, transcontinental air mail will be flown via Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita, Amarillo, Albuquerque to Los Angeles. The present route is via Chicago and Salt Lake City.

The change, Robbins said, is in line with the Postoffice Department's program to improve service and still reduce expenses. He said the mail will be flown at a net saving of 10 per cent. to the Postoffice Department after Jan. 1.

By flying the new route, mail from Los Angeles will be laid down in New York in less than 24 hours, and vice versa.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. — The Postoffice Department and airmail operators have been instructed by Postmaster General Walter F. Brown to work out a new formula for base pay but have not reached any conclusions.

Postmaster General Brown recently called to Washington officials of aviation lines carrying air mail and informed them a total of $600,000 would have to be trimmed from the base pay of air mail contractors.

He suggested a 10 per cent. reduction on all lines. There were objections, however, on the grounds that such a cut would affect the smaller operators more severely than would be justified.

Geneva College Man Is Chosen For Commencement

Dr. John Coleman Of Faculty Will Be Speaker At Local High Graduation

Dr. John Coleman, a member of the Geneva College faculty, will be the speaker at the Commencement exercises of the mid-year graduating class of the New Castle senior high school, according to announcement today by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of New Castle schools.

Dr. Coleman's address will be in tune with the general theme of the service and will be on the subject "Washington and Hamilton." The entire program will be built around the idea of the celebration of the birth of George Washington.

Commencement exercises will take place on Friday January 29, the last day of the first semester.

Mt. Jackson Vets To Meet Tonight

Earl J. Watt Post No. 638, Mt. Jackson ex-servicemen, will meet this evening at their headquarters. District Commander Charles Edwards will be there for the installation of the new post officers.

A standing invitation is extended to all Legionnaires to attend tonight's meeting. Arrangements for a New Year's Eve dance to be held at Enon park will be made.

ENTERS PLEA TO CHARGE MADE BY CHIEF HORNER

Fred Lombardo, arrested Friday night following an accident on East Lutton street in which his car hit a parked machine, was on Saturday taken before Alderman Green, where he was charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor made by Chief of Police C. C. Horner. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was held for the March term of court, being out under $500 bail pending the disposition of his case.

REAL ESTATE BOARD TO MEET COUNCIL

Members of City council and officials-elect will meet with members of the real estate board at city hall, Thursday afternoon. The decision to hold the meeting was made by council today when solons held their session at the municipal building. A communication signed by William Nunn, requested the meeting.

Small Blocs Constitute Our System Of Politics Rather Than Two Parties

So Contends Senator Cutting Who Forsees Constitutional Convention Readjusting Present Scheme Of Government

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—"The sooner we recognize that our political system is not, nationally, a two party system, but a system of small-ish blocs" says Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, "the better it will be for the country."

"Liberal thought on Capitol Hill has been consolidating rapidly upon Senator Cutting as its standard bearer since congress met.

He has a stability which Senator Borah lacks; youth and leaderlike qualities which are mising in 70 year old Senator Norris, a gallant fighter but without the instinct of command; enthusiasm, tip-top abilities and a background of culture equaled by few men in public life—a personality just rising into real greatness, some of the shrewdest character readers among his legislative brethren believe.

* * *

The question I had asked the New Mexican was:

"Is there a prospect that voters, with such views as the folk who attended the progressives' conference in Washington last March, will have much choice between the two major parties' respective presidential candidates in 1932?"

"There doesn't appear to be a strong likelihood of it, does there?" replied the senator, pessimistically.

He did not discuss nomination probabilities, on either side; simply acepted, without argument, the implied suggestion that neither ticket can reasonably be expected to be of a sort for progressives to rejoice over.

* * *

What, then, must be the progressive problem's solution?—Sooner or later. A party realignment—into liberal and conservatives? If so why is there not a more pronounced tendency in that direction already? It is no new complaint—that the old-line parties have ceased to mean anything.

"The fact is" said Senator Cutting, "that two parties are not enough on national issues.

"There are genuine alignments now, in state elections.

"Members of both houses of congress arrive here representing sufficiently clean-cut ideas. But once here they don't classify in any imaginable two ways—either as Republicans and Democrats or as liberals and conservatives. They break into half a dozen or more blocs, which coalesce and separate and form fresh combinations, as common interests draw them together or conflicting interests split them apart."

* * *

"Congressionally" continued the senator" this process of give and take permits each shade of opinion to make its influence felt.

"However, at a national convention, with several different groups striving for as many different and frequently contradictory sets of principles, naturally there must be a compromise, which cannot possibly have any real significance.

"Inasmuch as this is equally true of both conventions, neither can have significant results."

* * *

"The remedy, obviously" said the New Mexico lawmaker, "is the nomination of a national candidate of its own by each group which can come to terms with no other group except by overstraining the conditions of compromise."

Which doubtless would insure so many candidates that a majority vote seldom would be cast for any one of them and the presidential selection almost invariably would be thrown into the house of representatives?

The senator nodded.

"And a far more satisfactory selection it probably would be" he observed, "than we have much hope of getting by our present method."

* * *

But I admit" he added, "that it is not a system which would be very well adapted to our present scheme of government.

"For that reason I foresee a constitutional convention in the not distant future, to effect readjustments better suited to our national requirements of today."

And giving more power to the president?

"No; less," said the senator, 'and more to congress—probably reducing the president to the rating of a purely administrative official."

Reeves Would Save $10,000 In Salaries

Would Have Every Salaried Employe Work One Day Free Each Month

During the informal meeting Saturday of the present council and officials who will be sworn into office January 4, Councilman Clayton H. Reeves, advocated plan of requesting every city salaried employe of the city to work one day free each month during 1932, which would result in a saving of approximately $10,800. It is probable that the council and officials-elect may decide to adopt the plan.

According to Reeves there are approximately 150 salaried employes and the average salary of each is $6 a day. If they all gave one day's work free each month it would save the city about $900, a month and during the year about $10,800.

It is believed that when Councilman Reeves gave his figures that he included all salaried employes, from the mayor and councilmen to the lowest paid clerk, or employe on a monthly pay. He could not be located this morning as he attended a funeral. However, he may outline the plan further this afternoon.

It is believed that the council and officials-elect would favor the Reeves plan providing the money is used for improvements. What few city employes who were asked as to how they would regard such a request said it would be far more acceptable than a reduction in salaries which evidently no official is inclined to sponsor unless it is absolutely necessary.

MANY "MIS-FITS" AT WORK

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — The business world is full of "mis-fits", or employes holding positions for which they are not qualified, according to a number of Philadelphia manufacturing and distributing concerns. To remedy this situation, Temple university will train teachers in such manner as to enable them to arouse the latent ability of students, and to give them proper advice in the choice of a vocation.

OLD BLOCKHOUSE MOVED

(International News Service)

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Dec. 28.—Relic of the Indian-fighting days of the old Oregon Territory, the old blockhouse here will be moved to the courthouse grounds as a protection against Vagrants who sleep in it occasionally. Originally located seven miles west of Goldendale, it was later moved to the city park.

New Youngstown Bank Will Open

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 28.—A new bank, to be known as the Union National Bank, will be opened here on January 4 to take over the business of the closed First National Bank and the Commercial Bank, a going institution.

Announcement of formation of the new bank, which will have $8,000,000 in cash, was made by a committee co-operating with federal bank officials.

It will have capital of $1,250,000, surplus of $1,000,000 and undivided profits of $250,000, all of which has been paid in. It will be more than 50 per cent. liquid, the announcement said.

Efforts to reopen the Dollar Savings & Trust Company and the City Trust and Savings Bank, which failed to open October 15, are under way. The closing of these two banks and the First National Bank tied up nearly $60,000,000.

Correct this sentence: "Late one night I decided never to smoke again," said the man, "and next morning after breakfast I felt the same way about it."

BOSTON DEPOSITS RICH

(International News Service)

BOSTON—The per capita wealth in Greater Boston, on the basis of bank deposits, was $1089.77, compared to $998 for the State of Massachusetts as a whole, according to the Bureau of Commercial and Industrial Affairs of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. This figure included the deposits of national banks and trust companies, as of June 30, 1931. The total deposits were $33,515,096,086 or approximately 59.1 per cent of the state total.

Ellwood Cagers Invade Zelienople Tuesday Evening

Lloyd Men Out To Avenge Last Week's Defeat In Lincoln Gym

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 28.—A determined Eliwood High floor machine will invade Zellenople Tuesday evening for a return battle with Tommy Sager's passers at the high school gym. The local's are bent on avenging last week's defeat here.

Coach Lloyd has been conducting strenuous workouts for his players daily except Christmas. In the absence of Coach Lloyd on Saturday co-captains, Mike Dudick and Bob Kennedy supervised the workouts. They have been versed in their system of play for nearly a week now in preparation for tomorrow's contest. That 16-11 defeat was rather hard to swallow last week and every effort is being made to prevent its reoccurence. The team is in fine physical condition and the starting lineup will probably be the same as at the previous game.

Court Of Honor Here December 30

Trophy For Contest To Be Awarded At This Time; Big Attendance Anticipated

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 28.— One of the biggest Courts of Honor ever held in this city is expected to take place on Wednesday evening, December 30 at 7:30 in the Shelby auditorium. At the November court the trophy contest was not decided and other important business was not completed. As a result the biggest turnout at an affair of this type is expected on this occasion.

The trophy will be awarded at this meeting and a large number of scouts will receive badges. John Lindgren, chairman of the Court of Honor and J. A. Pearson, Scout Executive, will preside on the occasion.

Good Attendance At Y.P.C.U. Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 28.—The members of the Y. P. C. U. held their regular meeting last night in their rooms of the U. P. church with a fine attendance being present at the time.

The feature of the eevening was an interesting discussion of their stewardship lesson, "The Ten Virgins". Frank Gross was the leader on the occasion. All those present at the time participated in the discussion. It was announced that the annual evangelistic meetings will soon begin in the U. P. church and the young people are asked to join the choir. It was decided to hold a watch party on Thursday evening at nine o'clock. At this time each member will be required to give a new year's resolution.

WURTEMBURG U. P.

An election of church officers will also take place which will be followed by a luncheon and watch meeting.

Local Grid Star Is Discharged From Hospital

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 28.—Sam Neff, one of the greatest ends ever turned out at Ellwood high, and who was rather seriously injured on December 18 in Frisco, was discharged from the local hospital Saturday. He is thought to be fully recovered and is expected to start back to school after vacation.

Neff was knocked into a gutter by a machine driven by Luke C. Riley of Duquesne, Pa., who is employed in the local G. C. Murphy Company and was immediately rendered unconscious. Both were going in the same direction. The victim received two big gashes in the head, a bruised and battered face, a sprained wrist and cuts and bruises to both legs. Neff was immediately taken to the hospital, where his injuries were dressed, and was discharged. He was forced to return next morning after having a hemorrhage. He is reported to be in good condition now.

WAR ON SUNDAY DANCES

AKRON, O., Dec. 28.—Winning its "war" against Sunday dancing by influencing the passage of a no-dance measure through city council, the Akron Ministerial Association has continued its Sabbath observance drive and pointed its guns on all "dine and dance" in the county.

Mid-Season Costumes

Lelong's mid-season collection stresses economy which is rendered attractive through clothes of gracious simplicity—practical, but untouched by hints of the sordid. The elongated silhouette is continued, the waistline definitely marked and the outlines of the figure accentuated. This "improved silhouette" is often achieved by incrustations that model the costume and frequently replace any extraneous trimming. A model from his collection is sketched.

TWINS NEVERTHELESS

(International News Service)

SIOUX CITY, Ia.—"I'm the daughter of Mrs. F. H. Simpson and was born in Sioux City, Ia., and this is my twin brother who was born in South Sioux City, Nebraska." This statement from the child born to Mrs. Simpson at a hospital here will, when she is old enough, need an explanation. Mrs. Simpson's son was born at 12:30 a. m. in her home in South Sioux City in the state of Nebraska. Rushed to a Sioux City, Ia., hospital Mrs. Simpson gave birth to a twin daughter an hour and a half later.

"I Can Give YOU Better Service" Says the Merchant

Your merchant, too, has obligations to meet . . . for rent, utilities, merchandise. If he pays these bills promptly he is usually permitted a discount, and he passes these savings on to you in the form of lower prices. He cannot discount his bills, however, if his own receipts are smaller than expected, if his customers "hold off" on their bills.

For if his operating costs mount, he must either charge more for goods or service, or fail to keep a high stand of service. It is definitely to your own advantage to pay your bills by the tenth of the month. Sooner or later, the rewards of such regularity will come back to you.

Football Coaches Are In Conference

Strict Interpretation Of Rules Rather Than Changes Will Likely Be Made

May Modify Kickoff Rule To Try To Eliminate Serious Injuries

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Strict interpretation of present football rules rather than changes was recorded today as the attitude of eastern football officials.

At a meeting here Sunday of the Eastern Association of Football Officials, opening a week of conferences of gridiron coaches and officials, members expressed confidence in the present code of rules and regulations.

No Discussion of Rules.

There was no discussion of rules changes that might make the game more safe and eliminate accidents which caused the death of more than 40 players in 1931, but a committee of three was named to confer on the rules and report back to the football rules committee at its meeting in February. Members of the association were directed to submit any idea for rules changes to the committee.

Walter Okeson, former president of the association, urged the 75 officials attending the meeting to unite in a national organization of officials, combining sectional associations. He said this would give a more uniform interpretation of rules.

The association voted $500 for the Knute Rockne memorial fund.

Hugh C. McGrath, Boston, was named president. Other officers selected were W. R. Crowley, New York, vice president; E. C. Taggart, Steelton, Pa., treasurer, and John P. Egan, Pittsburgh, secretary.

The sportsmanship brotherhood will hold its annual luncheon today and the real discussion of football's ailments will open tomorrow when the American Football Coaches association holds its annual session.

It was hinted that the report of the committee on rules, headed by Coach Bert Ingwersen, former University of Iowa mentor, will recommend changes designed to make football less dangerous. The recommendations may call for elimination of the kick-off or for a modified kick-off.

Await Report.

Sessions of the National Collegiate Athletic association will be held on Wednesday and Thursday with prominent coaches and college officials attending.

Of interest to football fans will be the report to be issued tomorrow by the special committee headed by Lou Little, Columbia coach, on charges of overemphasis lodged against the game a year ago. For months the committee has been tabulating information gained from questionnaires sent to football players in all sections of the country. Specifically the investigation concerned itself with a study of the time and physical effort demanded of the football player as compared to the participant in other college activities.

Greatest Array Of Tennis Stars In Country At Chicago For Exhibitions

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 28—Four of the world's greatest tennis stars were limbering up today in preparation for what is said to be the first major charity net show on record The quartet of racquet luminaries is expected to draw a gallery of some 10,000 spectators to the Chicago stadium where the exhibitions will be held tomorrow night.

Ellsworth Vines, 20 year old national champion, will oppose George Lott, of Chicago, in the first singles match. In the other singles Francis Shields, of New York, will test his skill against John Van Ryn of Philadelphia. Vines and Shields will pair for a doubles match with Lott and Van Ryn, holders of the world's doubles championship and the French hard court doubles title.

Approximately $20 000, it is estimated, will flow into the unemployment relief fund from the tournament.

Wesley M. E. Team To Play Sharon

The Wesley M. E. team of the New Castle Church league after a 67 to 17 defeat at the hands of the Shontz and Myers team at Sharon last week will go back to Farrell, Wednesday night for a game with St. Ann's quintet.

The Shontz and Myers team contained such well known college stars as Tudor Lewis and Ted Bair, former Westminster stars, and Ken Bleirer.

The Wesley team is asked to meet at the "Y" at 6:45 o'clock Wednesday night by Manager Gibson: W. Bert, Critchlow, W. Rech, F. Rech, Mottinger, R. Fabian, P. Fabian, P. Fabian, Matthews, Irwin and Coach Hood.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion will defend his crown against Mickey Walker in a 15-round bout in Miami, in February and Schmeling will take on either Jack Sharkey or Jack Dempsey later, according to New York reports. Manager Joe Jacobs said he would prefer to sign for Schmeling against Dempsey rather than Sharkey because Dempsey would draw more money than the former sailor.

Grove City football team will play six home games and three away from home next season according to Bob Thorn, director of athletics. Glenville Teachers will open the season at home, September 24. One of the games to be played at home will be against Geneva. It will be the first time Geneva has played in Grove City within the last seven years.

The football rules are "pretty good" as they stand in the opinion of the Eastern Football Officials Association which met in New York. "We think they are pretty good as they stand" the organization's publicity committee told reporters after the closed session. "We don't intend to recommend any changes. It is our business only to interpret the rules as laid down by the rules committee."

It had been anticipated, according to the New York story, that the officials would in response to the agitation caused by more than 40 deaths on the football field this year, recommend some drastic changes in the rules. They contended themselves with appointing a committee of three members to survey the rules and report to the national rules committee at its annual meeting in February.

Section Three Opens January 5

New Castle Encounters Beaver Falls Here Tuesday Night, January 5

But nine days remain until the opening of the section three race of the W. P. I. A. L. New Castle high school's basketball team opens by encountering Beaver Falls high at George Washington junior high floor Tuesday night, Jan. 5.

While the local quintet battles the Beaver valley passers Ellwood City plays at New Brighton and Rochester meets Butler at Butler. All six teams in the league have already played one or more games. Indications show that this section should be one of the fastest in the circuit.

St Mary's Will Play Tonight

St. Joseph's Of New Brighton Will Oppose Saints Here This Evening

Business Manager "Jokey" Travers, today announced the signing of the St. Josephs team of New Brighton, as the main attraction at the St. Mary's auditorium this evening. There will be a preliminary game starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The New Brighton church team stands high up in the Beaver Valley County League. The team is made up of former Beaver Falls, New Brighton and Geneva College basketball stars and are coming to New Castle tonight bent on taking the measure of the Saints.

Coach Arnold "Fiz" Fraser will have his strongest lineup available for the game, with Gennock and Kulich as the starting forwards. Alexander at center and Jones and Uhle at the guards.

A good game is expected. The Saints have been idle for the past week, but have held daily workouts at the St. Mary's floor.

Grove City Grid Card Announced

Grove City College Football Card For 1932 Has Attractive Games

GROVE CITY, Pa., Dec. 28.—Grove City College's 1932 football schedule is now complete, according to R. E. Thorn, director of athletics, who announces the signing of contracts with St. Vincent College for an Armistice Day game at Latrobe, Pa. As the schools have never previously met on the gridiron, the contest is viewed with favor in Grove City.

The completed schedule gives Grove City six home games, and three on foreign fields. The game with St. Vincent fills in the only open date on the Crimson card, which finds the grovers playing every week-end from the opening with Glenville Teachers on Sept. 24 until the final encounter with Thiel on Nov. 19. The St. Vincent game is sandwiched in between the Geneva contest, to be played in Grove City for the first time in seven years, and the Mercer County battle with Thiel.

The new schedule is a highly attractive program, with several new opponents on the list. Glenville, Duquesne, and St. Vincent are the newcomers. Duquesne and St. Vincent replace Allegheny and Carroll University, while Glenville is added. The home games are especially attractive to Grove City fans, as six of the nine games are on the local gridiron. To carry out the schedule, Coach Charley Berry will have a veteran team, as only Captain Shupe and Jerry Munson, fullbacks, and Tom Carnahan, center, will be graduated in June.

FEWER DROP OUT AT PENN STATE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec 28.—Fewer students dropped out of the Pennsylvania State College prior to the Christmas vacation this year than were compelled to withdraw in the same period last year, Registrar William S. Hoffman reported today. More of the students who found it necessary to stop this year gave financial difficulties as the reason, however, than was the case a year ago.

ASKS FOR NO MUSTARD

(International News Service)

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 28.—Congressman Frederick M. Davenport has been asked by Dr. Hugh H. Shaw, Utica health officer, to see if U. S. government officials will consent to eliminate oil of mustard in the denatured alcohol formula. While the government requires the mustard to prevent distillation of the alcohol to be sold for bootleg purposes, the doctor reports he has a number of complaints from persons who have suffered severe nose, throat and eye trouble from putting the alcohol in automobile radiators.

No wonder magazines contained little humor in the old days. There were no bath tubs for the artists to draw ladies in.

Hearts Compile Good Floor Record

Sacred Hearts Have Registered 76 Wins And To 13 Losses In Three Years

In its three years of play on the basketball court the Sacred Hearts quintet has compiled a boastful record. In this lapse of time the Hearts have been victorious 76 times. Thirteen defeats have been chalked against them.

Starting out with a fast quintet in 1927-28, the Hearts won the junior title, winning 29 games and losing but one. The following season this same combination registered 22 triumphs against four upsets. The 1929-30 season saw the Hearts enjoy another year of success with 25 games marked on the winning side of the column and eight defeats on the losing side.

The 1930-1931, of course, isn't over, but judging from the way the Sacred Hearts five has started out this team is headed for another banner season. To date the Hearts have tumbled eight opponents and have fallen by the wayside twice. The following lads compose this team: Captain Vitus Bongivengo; Mastern, F. Bongivengo, Nigro, DiMuccio, Barlett and Sheldone.

The record so far:

1927-28	W.	L.	Pct.
Sacred Hearts	29	1	.966
1928-29
Sacred Hearts	22	4	.846
1929-30
Sacred Hearts	25	8	.759

In three years the Hearts have a percentage of .853.

Perfect Chestnut Tree Is Sought

University Of Pittsburgh Is Seeking Tree For Examination

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—Does anyone in the house know where there's a perfect chestnut tree?

Prof. Roswell Johnson of the University of Pittsburgh is searching for one. Alarmed at the decrease of the species, Prof. Johnson is so anxious for a perfect chestnut tree he is willing to pay $5 for one.

"I have about 20 Chinese trees," said he, "but I want a real American tree. The trees in this country have been stricken by the blight.

"They don't have any resistance, neither do Italian chestnut trees. What I want to do is revise the species with blight-resisting, hardy trees. The Chinese and Japanese trees have resisting qualities."

There is one proviso concerning the $5 tree—the nuts must not be picked from it before it is delivered for inspection.

"I want to be sure the tree is perfect," prof. Johnson said. "I don't expect to get one but I'd certainly like to."

GIRL IS STABBED BY JEALOUS LOVER

GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 28—Jas. Cade 28, of Brenizer mine was arrested by Private Charles Hanna of Troop A state police Saturday afternoon, charged with felonious cutting. Cade is said to have stabbed Virginia Hemphill, 26 a woman with whom he is alleged to have been infatuated. Jealousy over the attentions another man is said to have been showing the woman, led to the stabbing. The victim is reported to be in a critical condition in the Latrobe Hospital. Cade is being held at the barracks to await the outcome of the woman's injuries.

Schmeling-Walker To Fight At Miami Ring In February

Joe Jacobs, Manager Of Max Schmeling Will Sign Articles Soon

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—Mickey Walker's brave fight to a draw against Jack Sharkey of Boston in Brooklyn last summer has won the former middleweight title-holder a chance for the heavyweight crown of Max Schmeling.

Joe Jacobs manager of the German, announced today he expected to sign articles on Tuesday or Wednesday for a 15 round title bout between the heavyweight king and Walker at Miami, Fla., late in February. Madison Square Garden will promote the fight.

The wretched fight of the fumbling Sharkey against the Rumson, N. J. "toy bulldog" in Ebbett's field cost the white-eyed Bostonian the first 1932 shot at Schmeling, although Jacobs said if Schmeling defeated Walker he would again risk his title, meeting either Sharkey or Jack Dempsey during the coming summer.

DEMPSEY-SCHMELING OFFERED $500,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—Half a million dollars for Max Schmeling! Half a million dollars for Jack Dempsey!

That is what Joe Jacobs claimed today he had been offered for a Demspey-Schmeling bout next summer. Schmeling's manager said he was negotiating with an out-of-town promoter for the million dollar fight.

He said the promoter had offered to post $100,000 as evidence of good faith as soon as the heavyweight champion signed a contract.

General Store

Years ago buyers found everything from nails to wearing apparel under the roof of one general store. In this day of specialization the buyer must spend a great deal of valuable time in going from store to store in search of these things he needs.

Classified Ads, like the general store of old, are selling everything under the sun. A few minutes spent in reading the Classified Ads will save you hours of time and many dollars.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Year-End Adjustments Affect Stock Market

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Stocks drifted irregularly lower on the reopening of the markets today after the triple holiday.

On the big board the reaction was led by the best grade industrial and utility blue chips, many of which fell to the year's lowest level, the list including Consolidated Gas, American Tel. and Tel., Westinghouse Electric and Bethlehem Steel. United States Steel fell back fractionally. Baltimore and Ohio led the reaction in the low-priced rails and fell off to 15¼.

Year-end adjustments in important industrial lines have slackened the pace of the steel, automobile and other manufacturing companies, and current earnings reports are showing the effects of the shrinkage in last-quarter sales. Little encouragement was derived from the action of United States government bonds in the listed market, the new treasury is falling to a new low under 85.

Consolidated Gas fell off more than 2 points to the year's lowest price at 57½. Westinghouse was also a weak spot in the industrials, with a 2½ point decline to 22¾. American Tel. and Tel. finally broke under its previous low when the stock hit 113 for a new low of 2¾. Eastman Kodak fell off 2 points; Standard Oils also met with fractional reverses. Auburn Auto was on the toboggan and dropped 4½ points to 125½.

CASTLETON NEW YEAR EVE PLANS WILL BE DISCUSSED TONIGHT

Plans for the annual New Year's eve frolic and dance to be held Thursday night in the ballroom of The Castleton, sponsored by the Agenda club as a benefit event for the Max E. Samuels student loan fund, will be formulated at a meeting to be held in the Y. M. C. A. at 9 o'clock this evening.

"At the age of 70 he developed faith in a future life." That isn't faith. It's whistling in the dark.

May Be a Future Duce

As yet showing none of the aggressiveness that made his famous grandfather practically the undisputed ruler of Italy, this most recent photo of little Fabrizio di Cortellazzo, grandson of Premier Benito Mussolini, proves that the young man has inherited some of Il Duce's vitality. He is shown in the arms of his mother, the Countess G. Ciano di Cortellazzo, eldest daughter of the Fascist leader.

Victims of Depression

That the depression has insinuated its tentacles into a stratum of society that we thought was immune is evidenced by the above pictures. At left is the Rev. Albert E. Kent, of Saugus, Mass., with his daughter, Muriel, whose pitiful plight in poverty was recently discovered when he collapsed from hunger and malnutrition. It was disclosed that the clergyman had been living on $7 a week, out of which he supported a wife and four children. Right is Mrs. Ella Kent, his second wife. Top are three of his children, left to right, Albert, Jr., Mary and Laura. Kent confessed that his collapse was due to his going without food so that his family might eat.

LOCALS TO INDUCT PHALANX CHAPTER

Officers and members of the city's Phalanx fraternity, young men's service organization of the Y. M. C. A., will induct the newly organized Youngstown chapter at a service in the Central Y there tonight.

A large number of the members will accompany the officiating group, leaving the Y here at 6:45 o'clock.

Primary Cause Of Wars During Modern Times Laid To Economic Strains

By WILLIAM G. McADOO
Former Secretary of the Treasury.

That all men are brothers is a noble and Christian thought. But human experience has demonstrated that it is, at best, nothing more than a pleasant theory.

That militarism is alone responsible for war is a cardinal error. The primary cause of all wars in modern times is economy strain, and that in turn is the result of intense financial and commercial competition.

The reduction of armies and navies would be a move in the right direction, as it would relieve civilization of a grievous load of taxes. To abolish war effectively we must contrive, by some means to lessen the intense economic tension which is, in this era, one of the outstanding characteristics of our civilization.

I found it difficult to understand why the country failed to support the Russian proposal in 1927 for universal disarmament.

GLEANINGS FROM HISTORY

By S. S. MYERS

Q—Why are the southern states called Dixie?

A—Because the bank of Louisiana issued ten dollar bills which were called "Dix". These bills had a large circulation in that state which became known as the land of the Dixies. The name was later applied to all southern states.

Q—How did the term "Yankee" originate and to whom was it applied?

A—It was originated by the Indians and by them applied to the English. In attempting to say English they got it "Yengee" which finally developed into Yankee. Later, during the Civil war, all person living north of the Mason and Dixon line were called Yankees.

Q—What stream is called the "River of Sorrow"?

A—The Hoang Ho in China. In 1887 it overflowed its embankments and a series of floods resulted in which about one million people lost their lives. The area affected was 50,000 square miles, considerably larger than the state of Pennsylvania.

Q—Who was the negro elected to the United States senate?

A—Blanche K. Bruce, a native of Virginia. He was elected from Mississippi and served one year.

Q—Who was chairman of the convention which framed the Constitution of the United States?

A—George Washington.

Q—During the Civil war two great cavalry generals were developed, one at the north and the other at the south. Who were they?

A—General Phil Sheridan in the north and General J. E. R. Stewart in the south.

Q—Why are city councils and law-makers generally called Solons?

A—Because of Solon, a famous Athenian law-giver who organized the popular assembly in Athens. He died about 557 B. C.

Q—What state is continually decreasing in population?

A—Nevada has been decreasing in population for several decades.

Q—Where was Sheba, the country from which the queen came to visit Solomon?

A—It was in southwestern Arabia. The region is now called Yemen and is inhabited by a strange people who are blood worshipers. They are half way between white and black and do not seem to belong to any known race.

Q—What causes the Mirage often seen in the desert?

A—Radiation from the earth forcing the denser layer of atmosphere upward with the rarified layer under causing the upper layer to act as a mirror.

Q—What is a lunar cycle?

A—The lunar or meteoric cycle is one of 19 years, used for finding the date of Easter.

Q—Why was St. Peterburg changed to Petrograd?

A—To eliminate all trace of German influence noticeable in the suffix "burg".

Q—What president of the United States married the same wife twice?

A—Andrew Jackson. There having been a dispute over the date of Mrs. Jackson's divorce from her first husband.

Q—From what was the word Mississippi derived?

A—From the Indian "Me-che-sepe" meaning Father of Waters.

Q—Why is Uncle Sam the recognized figure of the United States?

A—Because of a man named Samuel Wilson, who was government inspector during the war of 1812. Some one interpreted the letters "U. S." to mean Uncle Sam, hence Wilson was called Uncle Sam by all who knew him.

Q—Which is the largest lake in the United States? Which is the deepest?

A—Lake Superior is the largest. Lake Tahoe in the Rocky mountains is the deepest. No soundings have ever reached the bottom.

Q—Who discovered the Pacific ocean and what did he call it?

A—Balboa, in 1513. He called it the South Sea.

Q—When were matches first made in the United States?

A—In 1831. They sold for one cent each.

Stewart Points To Flaw As Economists Suggest Way Out Of Depression

Fallacy Of Theory "That Improvement In Conditions Can Result From Curtailing Working Hours" Is Not Mentioned

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Ever since the depression set in, economists almost without exception (congressional economists, miscellaneous governmental economists of all sorts, labor union economists, assorted economists, professional and amateur) have agreed on one thing:

That there must be a shortening of the standard working day or week or both, equivalent to production's acceleration through mechanization, in order to make jobs go around again.

The flaw in this reasoning seems to me so obvious that I cannot understand its (nearly) 100 per cent acceptance in economic circles.

* * *

The strangest part of it is that plenty of economists evidently do realize that there is a flaw.

In the same breath with which they attribute unemployment to the speeding up of production, they say that, after all, the trouble is not with over-production, but with under-consumption.

They also say that maybe maldistribution is the real trouble.

They likewise suggest that perhaps the excessive concentration of wealth, rather than anything else, is at the bottom of hard times.

The theory that any basic improvement in conditions can result from a curtailment of working hours, or days per week, or both, clearly does not satisfy them. Nevertheless, they continue to harp on it.

* * *

It is easy to see what the matter with the proposition is.

Suppose the case of a man who is free-lancing at production, solely to supply his own needs.

He finds that he is producing more than he can consume.

If he has been working painfully long hours, doubtless he shortens them to the point of producing no more than his bare current requirements. He probably cuts down on his production of perishables, to avoid having his surplus spoiling on his hands, but possible he correspondingly increases his production of things he can keep, and lets them pile up for a rainy day.

At worst, too much cannot hurt him.

On the opposite hand, if he limits his output too strictly, he risks finding himself pinched in some emergency, when he would profit by having a store laid by.

* * *

Anyway, if he works less, thus reducing his production, he certainly produces less; there is no getting away from that.

He may still be producing a sufficiency.

He may benefit, culturally and spiritually, from increased leisure.

But, materially speaking, he is not producing as much as he was.

In other words, he is not making as high wages as he did—wages, of course, being, in reality, labor's product. Labor's product!—minus rental for the use of machinery; minus the price it pays for supervision, salesmanship, et cetera; minus what the government takes in taxes; perhaps still further minus unfair exactions under some or all of these headings.

* * *

Labor's product then, is labor's wage, less various subtractions. And what labor does not produce it cannot conceivably get in wages, inasmuch as its products and its wages are identical, under different names.

Accordingly, does it not follow that, if labor cuts its production, it automatically cuts its wages?

True, certain economists argue that a reduction in the amount of labor's working time does not necessarily reduce the volume of its products—that it may even increase production, by increasing labor's verve. But if so, the program defeats itself—for its purpose is to reduce production, in order to make employment go around.

* * *

To be sure, there is an alternative.

Working time and production can be reduced, without a wage reduction, if the difference is taken, not out of labor's envelope, but out of capital's rental for machinery, and toll for supervision and salesmanship, and mayhap out of its unfair exactions, too.

But that is another question altogether—involving a redistribution of wealth, and pointing in the direction of an entirely new politico-economic system.

MASURY MAN IS INJURED BY AUTO

Edward Rosser, aged 50, of Bedford Road, Masury, is in the Buhl hospital, Sharon, suffering fractures of the left leg and left arm, sustained Friday when he was struck by a car while walking in Budd street, Masury.

Mr. Rosser is a brother of David Rosser and Mrs. David Reynolds of this city.

REVENGE

A film actor was bitten by a dog and had to lay off. The doctor, on examining the injury, shook his head and said the matter was very serious as obviously the dog had been suffering from rabies.

"All right" said the actor, "hand me pen and paper."

"Say" said the doctor, "I don't expect theres any necessity for making your will yet."

"I'm making no will" said the actor, "only a list of some film people I'm going to bite."

Threat Is Made To Blow Up Bank At Tokyo, Japan

Threat Made Against Tokyo Branch Of National City Bank Of New York

TOKYO, Dec. 28.—A threat to blow up the Tokyo branch of the National City bank of New York was contained in a letter received today by C. F. Thomas, the manager.

Nationalistic and patriotic elements believed behind the threat charged the bank with buying American dollars and draining Japan's gold. The letter criticized the bank for alleged continuance of this policy despite the low rate of exchange. Thomas emphatically denied the bank was speculating in exchange.

Since re-imposition of the gold embargo, Tokyo newspapers have been carrying tables showing daily dollar purchases. Recently, the National City bank has been leading, causing severe comment in the press.

"Ted" Donaldson Is Buried In Sharon

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 28.—Funeral services were held Saturday morning for the late Thomas E. "Ted" Donaldson, former Sharon High football star and who attended Westminster College grid camp at the start of the 1931 season. Donaldson died in the Buhl hospital of a complication of diseases. He is survived by his widow, and one son, also one brother and his parents.

Donaldson in 1927 attended W. & J. college and played football on the freshman team. He was forced to give up his studies. He was also a track star of note, holding the shot put record in Mercer county.

One thing it was noted President Hoover did not emphasize in his message to congress was the back-home movement.—The Columbia (S. C.) State.

Members Of Family Gather At Klingensmith Home Friday For Dinner

Places were set for 18 when Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Klingensmith entertanied at a family dinner at their home at 521 North Cedar street on Friday, Christmas day.

The dinner also honored the birthday of Mrs. P. G. Reed, one of the guests. Gifts were exchanged, a social time and card playing were enjoyed, making the event most delightful.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clare Gorley and sons Buster and Pete, Mrs. P. G. Reed and children Junior and Paul, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Rohrer and daughters Irene and Betty Lou, Miss Anna Patterson, the host and hostess and son, Paul Klingensmith and William Dunlap, all of New Castle, and Mrs. Margaret Decker of New Kensington.

VICTIM IMPROVED

Mrs. A. F. Stritzinger, of 203 East Cherry street, who received injuries to her back in an automobile accident a week ago Saturday, is around and getting along quite well. Mrs. Stritzinger's automobile was struck by a truck at the corner of East North and North Jefferson streets and it was turned over by the force of the collision.

FAMILY DINNER

A family dinner was enjoyed on Christmas Day at the home of Harry Howard, Mt. Jackson road. Places were set for ten or twelve guests and the afternoon hours were spent informally.

A number of the guests were present for supper also.

K. J. U. POSTPONED

The meeting of the K. J. U. class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church announced for Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Raymond Horchler, Clayton street, has been postponed for a week or so because of illness. The new date will be announced later.

GRAND AUXILIARY

A meeting of the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will take place Wednesday in the City building.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Willing Workers of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church will meet after prayer service Wednesday evening at the church.

The social committee of the Christian Endeavor society will meet this evening with George Maud to make plans for a coming event.

As the regular meeting of the Opportunity Circle would fall on Friday this week it has been postponed.

Roses In Bloom In Local Garden

Roses in the garden on Christmas—sounds like a fairy tale but it is an actual fact.

F. F. Gorley, of 604 North Cedar street, snipped a pretty rose from a bush in the garden of his home Friday and noticed several more buds which seem determined to bloom in spite of tradition.

LIBRARY DAY

The Mahoning free public library a branch of the New Castle library, is open this afternoon and evening.
